De Gaulle's Warned By British Head

Declares Military Nationalism Is Perilous Delusion

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson opened the North Atlantic Alliance's annual spring meeting today with a warning to President Charles de Gaulle that military nationalism is a dangerous delusion.

Wilson avoided mentioning the French leader by name. But his target was clear to the foreign ministers from the 15 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The prime minister said the keynote of NATO "must be interdependence" and added:

"Indeed our willingness to accept the implications of interdependence must grow, not diminish, as we work to make the alliance more effective and bring it into line with changing world requirements.

"There is no greater delusion than the feeling we can solve our common problems on the basis of adventures in military nationalism."

Wilson, the leader of a country with nuclear power, asserted that there are only two major nuclear nations in the world — the United States and the Soviet Union. With this he downgraded the nuclear power of France and Communist China as well as Britain's.

"The sheer facts of thermonuclear weaponry," said Wilson, "to say nothing of the hard lessons of economics, mean that outside the two major nuclear nations, the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R., there cannot be a genuinely independent nuclear power capable of sustaining thermonuclear war or of providing a globally credible nuclear deterrent.

"And the effects of modern nuclear warfare, no less than the realization that isolationism is impossible, even for the most powerful, mean that no nation, however great, can think in terms of going it alone, without allies and without regard to world opinion."

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, president of the NATO Council, and NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of Italy joined Wilson in calling for a new dedication to unity within the alliance.

Spaak said recent developments in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic showed the world still had a long way to go to gain true peaceful coexistence.

Would Have Been Peace Overture

Top Dominican General Decides Not To Resign

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin changed his mind Monday night about resigning as a peace overture to the Dominican rebels. The U.S. government apparently hoped the loyalist junta head, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, would talk him into resigning.

"The question of Gen. Wessin's resignation is a matter between Gen. Imbert and Gen. Wessin," a U.S. Embassy official said in a statement.

"We did understand from official sources that Gen. Wessin was going to resign at 4 p.m. Monday. We now understand that he is reconsidering his decision," the statement said.

The United States had pressed for Wessin's retirement as a peace gesture toward the rebels, whose forces he fought with planes and tanks before the arrival of U.S. troops. Many Dominicans held him responsible for the air bombardments of Santo Domingo that took more than 1,000 lives.

Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, proclaimed provisional president by the rebels, has been demanding that Wessin leave the country. The general commands the San Isidro training base 20 miles from Santo Domingo, one of the country's key military posts, and was a leader of the military revolt that overthrew President Juan Bosch in 1963.

U.S. sources said Wessin sent a letter Sunday to U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. in which he expressed his willingness to resign from the army for the good of the country. The letter was written after he met with Bennett and Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of the 21,000 U.S. Marines and paratroopers in the Dominican Republic.

There was no explanation for the general's change of heart.

Reliable sources said the U.S. Embassy and representatives of the Organization of American States were trying to arrange a meeting between junta chief Imbert and rebel leader Caamano, but that Caamano so far had refused.

Caamano met with the papal nuncio, Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, Monday. The nuncio, who represents Pope Paul VI in the Dominican Republic, reportedly carried a message from the junta. Results of the meeting were not disclosed.

In another peace gesture, Imbert on Sunday dismissed eight officers considered offensive to the rebels. Caamano's comment on the move was: "They have killed the flies and left the beetles."

At a news conference Monday he again denied charges that his movement was controlled by Communists.

"I am completely sure that a dictatorship of the left is infinitely worse than one of the right," he said.

U.S. forces reinforced their encirclement of the rebel-held area of Santo Domingo with 105mm howitzers, six smaller cannon and an additional 15 M48 tanks. A U.S. military spokesman said the artillery was "tuned on rebel targets."

Town Held By Reds For Seven Hours

Major Battle Seen Developing Near Cambodian Border

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong occupied a town of 15,000 persons 74 miles north of Saigon for seven hours today, killing 5 American military advisers and wounding 11 others in one of the heaviest onslaughts of the Vietnamese war.

In another operation, a U.S. Marine was killed and six were wounded when a company of leathernecks shot their way into a complex of Communist-controlled villages near the Da Nang Air Base.

The casualties raised the total of U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam to 372 since December 1961.

The heaviest American casualties were suffered in Song Be, a provincial capital near the Cambodian border. Government forces reoccupied the town under cover of a heavy air attack by U.S. Air Force jets, but the Communists dug in along a river northeast of the town. A major battle appeared to be developing.

Communists groundfire hit one American propeller-driven fighter-bomber in the engine, forcing it to land. An Army helicopter picked up the pilot unhurt 15 minutes later.

"We're really pouring the air on them. We're giving them everything we can lay our hands on," a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said.

The Vietnamese defenders were believed to have suffered heavy casualties in the attack, which was the first Red seizure of a provincial capital since last fall.

Song Be first came under heavy mortar attack at 1:55 a.m. The Communists followed up at 2:30 a.m. with an infantry assault in regimental strength on the town where about 30 U.S. advisers were stationed with a force of some 1,000 Vietnamese.

During the fighting helicopters were unable to land reinforcements because Red fire in the landing zones was too hot.

By daylight the guerrillas were well inside the town and engaged the defenders in house-to-house fighting.

One group of guerrillas fought their way into the mess hall of the U.S. Army advisory detachment, but all were killed in hand-to-hand fighting. A second group got into the hall and got away with a supply of rations.

Planner's Report

Gateway College Tract Suggested

The East Liverpool gateway area near the Ohio end of the Chester Bridge appears to lend itself to future development as a permanent location for a community college, the City Planning Commission was told Monday night at City Hall.

The tentative recommendation for use of the tract along the extreme east end of E. 3rd St. was made to the municipal group by Daniel Ziegler II, a member of the staff of the firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates, which is preparing an East Liverpool "master plan."

ZIEGLER MADE the suggestion in reviewing briefly some of the recommendations that will be contained in a report of a study of the downtown area, which he said may be ready for presentation to the commission late in June.

Mayor Merrill Hall, a member of the commission, said he believes a downtown location as close as possible to the present high school probably is the best site for a permanent community college campus.

Kent State University, which has promised to establish a branch here, has indicated a preference for locations near the central business area, he said. If the college is close to downtown restaurants, there is no need for construction of cafeteria facilities, he said.

Ziegler emphasized that most of the suggestions he has in mind for the downtown study report still are tentative.

"None of these things is set finally," he said. "I argue with myself about them all the time. Don't take them as Gospel."

ZIEGLER SAID the survey report should come off the presses in time to be presented to the commission by Monday, June 28. When it is available, the commission will determine whether to schedule a special meeting to hear the recommendations.

Ziegler also told the commission he has been thinking of recommending removal of the buildings at the southeast and southwest corners of Market and 5th Sts. "to provide open space" in the revamped downtown section. He pointed out the two buildings are comparatively old, while directly opposite them are two recently - constructed structures.

Ziegler reported at length on his work to date on the study of the downtown area, particularly on maps and charts that will accompany the text.

He displayed drawings for maps that will show: 1. traffic circulation and parking; 2. business places and other spots responsible for "generating" traffic; 3. building heights; 4. existing land use as determined by activities in the first and second floors of downtown buildings; 5. land use by functions, and 6. a "merit" rating of buildings in the core area that will range from "very poor" to "above average."

The buildings will be rated on structural condition, suitability of present use to location, building maintenance and aesthetics, Ziegler said.

REITERATING A report made earlier, Ziegler said he still expects to recommend conversion of the area between 3rd St. and the riverfront for light industrial use.

He said he feels the city should preserve land around the Broadway wharf for public access to the river. It could be

Officers Nab Man In Crash Of Stolen Car

Suspect, 27, Hurt When Auto Rams Into Utility Pole

A 27-year-old East End man injured in the crash of a stolen car at 2 this morning is in City Hospital under police guard today as officers continue an investigation of the possibility he also was involved in an earlier auto theft and thievery of $110 from the trousers pocket of a sleeping relative.

Police identified the suspect as Sherman Mikeals, 914 Railroad St., who suffered lacerations of the chin and the little finger of the right hand when the allegedly stolen car he was driving crashed into a utility pole at E. 5th and Elm Sts.

Officers said Mikeals was pursued and seized after he fled from the 1958 Edsel four-door sedan which Leo Fiorillo, 453 Virginia Ave., had reported stolen from a parking place at his home between 10:30 p. m. Monday and 1 a. m. today.

Officers said he also is suspected of theft of a 1957 Cadillac convertible which Leonard Husk, 164 Center St., reported stolen between 9 and 10:45 p.m. Monday from the parking lot at the A. & P. Supermarket on Walnut St. Husk's auto was Midland police were notified and with the assistance of Bernard Zlatovich, Ohioville police chief, overtook the youths as they traveled toward Beaver.

Under interrogation, the youths admitted the theft of nine autos in Aliquippa and one in Monaca, besides the Midland auto.

Wellsville Police To Get Pinkerton

George Pinkerton, 25, who escaped from the Wellsville jail April 27, was taken into custody at Booneville, Ind., Monday night.

Wellsville Police Chief John Hephner said he was notified by Booneville authorities that Pinkerton had been picked up on a warrant issued for his arrest after he fled.

He has been charged with escaping from a jail, a felony and a penitentiary offense.

Pinkerton ran away after receiving permission to use a public telephone booth outside City Hall.

He had been jailed on traffic charges in mid - April. His car sheared off a fire hydrant. He abandoned the vehicle and fled on foot. He was arrested later and jailed in lieu of the fine and costs.

Hephner said he or one of his officers will go to Booneville to return Pinkerton.

Infant 'Fair' After Mishap Kills Mother

A 9 - month - old Columbiana area girl, injured in a Route 7 auto - truck collision which claimed the life of her mother Monday, remained in "fair" condition today at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Elizabeth Ann Finley suffered head injuries and multiple lacerations when the 1958 convertible driven by her mother, Mrs. Nancy L. Finley, 29, struck a truck about 10:30 a. m., the impact hurling the mother into the path of a following rig.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Mrs. Finley, a mother of six children, drove from the County Line Rd. into the side of the rig operated by James Trafficant, 56, of Canfield R. D.

Oscar Kaufman, 21, of Grove City, Pa., driving another tractor-trailer truck behind Trafficant, told officers he swerved to

Fair Housing Bill Chances Seen 'Weak'

Republicans Reject Democrats' Bid For Vote On Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chances for passage of "fair housing" legislation by the current session of the Ohio General Assembly appear weakened following a Senate Rules Committee clash with political overtones.

Democrats sought Monday night to bring the controversial bill out for a floor vote, but the move was rejected by majority Republicans who apparently anticipated a politically tedious floor fight over amendments.

The vote came after busy floor sessions marking the start of the legislature's 17th work week. A heavy calendar faces the lawmakers, including votes today on proposals to reduce the size of freight train crews and lower the voting age from 21 to 19.

All three Democrats on the eight-member Rules Committee voted to place "fair housing" on the calendar. Republicans declined to say how they voted but it was reported they stood united against the move.

Sen. Charles W. Whalen, R-Montgomery, sponsored the bill which would ban discrimination in housing in owner - occupied dwellings of more than four units. Democrats sponsored a tougher bill earlier which would have excluded only two - unit dwellings and given more power to the Ohio Civil Rights Commission.

State Alert Spread In Columbus Shooting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The wife of a man charged with shooting two men in a crowded downtown drugstore Monday was found shot to death today at her home.

Columbus police spread an alert for her husband over Ohio and into other states.

Homicide detectives found the nude body of Mrs. Virginia Jemison this morning when they went to the home seeking information about her husband, Richard, 56.

In Voting Rights Bill

Defeat Expected On Poll Tax Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders expected to defeat today a drive led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to write a state and local poll-tax ban into the Negro voting-rights bill.

Kennedy's amendment has divided supporters of the legislation and kept the Senate from making much headway since debate on the bill began April 22.

The Massachusetts Democrat claimed Monday at least 42 of the 100 senators would back the amendment.

Administration leaders from President Johnson down have said that a constitutional problem is raised by attempting to outlaw poll taxes as a requirement for voting in state and local elections.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois also has attacked the constitutionality of the amendment, offered by Kennedy and 38 other senators. Civil-rights organizations have strongly urged its adoption.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in Selma, Ala., Monday to push a Negro voting drive, told a news conference that defeat of the antipoll-tax amendment would be a national tragedy.

Once the poll-tax issue is resolved, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana says he will try to get an agreement to limit Senate debate on other amendments in an effort to pass the bill by the end of the week.

Southern senators opposed to the whole bill as unconstitutional arranged to meet an hour in advance of today's session to decide whether to block Mansfield's unanimous - consent request.

Pentagon Experts' Estimate

$3 To 5 Billion Cost Seen For All-Volunteer Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon experts estimate it would cost up to another $3 billion to $5 billion a year to raise military pay and incentives enough to attract an all-volunteer military force.

This calculation, sources said today, has been made by officials studying the draft and other means of getting manpower necessary to maintain the armed services at their required strengths.

This study, it is understood, will show that the draft must be continued at least until 1970.

However, sources said the report will make a series of recommendations that are designed to stimulate enlistments, utilize manpower resources now untapped because of high mental standards and possibly substitute civilians in some of the jobs now handled by men in uniform.

By a combination of means, it is hoped to reduce reliance on the draft.

The study was ordered by President Johnson in April 1964. It was supposed to have been submitted to the White House by April 1. That target has slipped to about June 1.

Johnson launched the study with considerable fanfare. Military officials have said privately they believe the impression became widespread that the draft would be ended. This, they said, has caused a drop-off in enlistments in all services because many enlistments are believed to be made with the prod of the draft in the background.

The Army is the only one of the services now drawing on the draft and just last Friday the Pentagon ordered the biggest monthly draft call in 20 months — 17,000 men for the Army in June.

The services need about 500,000 men a year to fill the slots left by the turnover of men whose terms of service run out or who retire.

Recount Set In Race That Coin Decided

The County Election Board today scheduled a recount next Monday at 1 p. m. in the Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman at East Palestine.

The recount was asked by Halsey M. Allard, who lost to Richard D. Miller, the incumbent, on the toss of a coin after the official count of the election board showed the two finished in a tie with 77 votes each.

Allard originally had indicated he would not seek a recount, but apparently changed his mind over the weekend, asking a recount of both precincts in the ward.

In making the recount, the board will tabulate the votes for all four GOP candidates, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. Trailing Miller and Allard were John A. Davis, who polled 40 votes, and Gary Doran, credited with 27.

If the recount shows a tie still

Republicans Reject Democrats' Bid For Vote On Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chances for passage of "fair housing" legislation by the current session of the Ohio General Assembly appear weakened following a Senate Rules Committee clash with political overtones.

Democrats sought Monday night to bring the controversial bill out for a floor vote, but the move was rejected by majority Republicans who apparently anticipated a politically tedious floor fight over amendments.

The vote came after busy floor sessions marking the start of the legislature's 17th work week. A heavy calendar faces the lawmakers, including votes today on proposals to reduce the size of freight train crews and lower the voting age from 21 to 19.

All three Democrats on the eight-member Rules Committee voted to place "fair housing" on the calendar. Republicans declined to say how they voted but it was reported they stood united against the move.

Sen. Charles W. Whalen, R-Montgomery, sponsored the bill which would ban discrimination in housing in owner - occupied dwellings of more than four units. Democrats sponsored a tougher bill earlier which would have excluded only two - unit dwellings and given more power to the Ohio Civil Rights Commission.

Homicide detectives found the nude body of Mrs. Virginia Jemison this morning when they went to the home seeking information about her husband, Richard, 56.

In Voting Rights Bill

Defeat Expected On Poll Tax Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders expected to defeat today a drive led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to write a state and local poll-tax ban into the Negro voting-rights bill.

Kennedy's amendment has divided supporters of the legislation and kept the Senate from making much headway since debate on the bill began April 22.

The Massachusetts Democrat claimed Monday at least 42 of the 100 senators would back the amendment.

Administration leaders from President Johnson down have said that a constitutional problem is raised by attempting to outlaw poll taxes as a requirement for voting in state and local elections.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois also has attacked the constitutionality of the amendment, offered by Kennedy and 38 other senators. Civil-rights organizations have strongly urged its adoption.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in Selma, Ala., Monday to push a Negro voting drive, told a news conference that defeat of the antipoll-tax amendment would be a national tragedy.

Once the poll-tax issue is resolved, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana says he will try to get an agreement to limit Senate debate on other amendments in an effort to pass the bill by the end of the week.

Southern senators opposed to the whole bill as unconstitutional arranged to meet an hour in advance of today's session to decide whether to block Mansfield's unanimous - consent request.

Pentagon Experts' Estimate

$3 To 5 Billion Cost Seen For All-Volunteer Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon experts estimate it would cost up to another $3 billion to $5 billion a year to raise military pay and incentives enough to attract an all-volunteer military force.

This calculation, sources said today, has been made by officials studying the draft and other means of getting manpower necessary to maintain the armed services at their required strengths.

This study, it is understood, will show that the draft must be continued at least until 1970.

However, sources said the report will make a series of recommendations that are designed to stimulate enlistments, utilize manpower resources now untapped because of high mental standards and possibly substitute civilians in some of the jobs now handled by men in uniform.

By a combination of means, it is hoped to reduce reliance on the draft.

The study was ordered by President Johnson in April 1964. It was supposed to have been submitted to the White House by April 1. That target has slipped to about June 1.

Johnson launched the study with considerable fanfare. Military officials have said privately they believe the impression became widespread that the draft would be ended. This, they said, has caused a drop-off in enlistments in all services because many enlistments are believed to be made with the prod of the draft in the background.

The Army is the only one of the services now drawing on the draft and just last Friday the Pentagon ordered the biggest monthly draft call in 20 months — 17,000 men for the Army in June.

The services need about 500,000 men a year to fill the slots left by the turnover of men whose terms of service run out or who retire.

Recount Set In Race That Coin Decided

The County Election Board today scheduled a recount next Monday at 1 p. m. in the Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman at East Palestine.

The recount was asked by Halsey M. Allard, who lost to Richard D. Miller, the incumbent, on the toss of a coin after the official count of the election board showed the two finished in a tie with 77 votes each.

Allard originally had indicated he would not seek a recount, but apparently changed his mind over the weekend, asking a recount of both precincts in the ward.

In making the recount, the board will tabulate the votes for all four GOP candidates, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. Trailing Miller and Allard were John A. Davis, who polled 40 votes, and Gary Doran, credited with 27.

If the recount shows a tie still

Civic Music Ends Season's Series

Opera Players Score Hit During 'La Boheme' Here

Climaxing this season's Tri-State Civic Music series was a most rewarding production Monday night at Westgate Auditorium of Puccini's "La Boheme," performed by the Turnau Opera Players of New York.

"La, Boheme," the fourth opera by Puccini and the composer's second operatic success, is based on "Scenes de la Vie de Boheme" by the Parisian novelist Henri Murger — depicting sketches of Bohemian life in Paris around 1830.

The opening act, although it got off to a slow start, began to show a little of the warmth and tenderness of Puccini in the perhaps best - known and loved duet between Rodolfo and Mimi as they meet for the first time. Eric Davis as Rodolfo and Carolyn Heafner as Mimi showed sensitivity and understanding of their parts.

The second act, although not as fine vocally as the first, was vigorous and charmingly fresh as Musetta, a coquette played by Lorine Buffinton, encountered an old lover, Marcello — portrayed by Alan Cathcart.

An unexpected pleasure occurred at the beginning of act four in a lovely duet displaying exquisite vocal control, tone quality and sensitive blending of voices by Rodolfo and Marcello.

James Billings and Franklyn Summers, playing the parts of Schaunard, a musician, and Colline, a philosopher, respectively, are not to be overlooked for their artistic presentation.

The cast was comprised of young musicians displaying enthusiasm, musical insight, imaginative direction, expressive acting and an obvious love of singing.

Herbert Kaplan, a most competent director and accompanist, successfully guided the cast through the opera, maintaining a freedom of style and feeling of continuity often lost when an opera is performed in English.

Paul Blair announced exciting plans for next season's programs. Memberships are still obtainable.

Superintendent of Schools Paul Blair, Civic Music Association president, announced plans for next season's programs and pointed out that memberships still are available.

Shawke and Poling also were named to the nominating committee to select a slate of candidates for next year.

Jones received a letter of appreciation from Post 374 for his aid in the cancer fund drive.

Cunningham read a copy of a letter which the U. S. State Department sent to the editor of the Cleveland Press "correcting statements and accusations made in the newspaper."

Reports were made on the illnesses of John McCune and Howard Parsons.

It was announced the County Council will meet Friday night at the Salineville post.

Sargus Asks Grain Storage Regulations

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A bill calling for strict state regulation of grain storage facilities was introduced in the Ohio Senate Monday night by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus (D-Belmont).

Sargus said it was prompted by grain shortages discovered over the last two years in grain elevators throughout Ohio.

It would require licensing of all grain warehouse operators and would require quarterly inspection of storage facilities by the Ohio Commerce Commission.

Upon discovery of a grain shortage, the commission could force the warehouseman to cover the shortage or post an additional bond. The commission could seize all commodities, business property and records of an operator who refused to comply with its orders.

Bonds for bulk grain would range from a minimum of $3,000 for 12,000 bushels to $20,000 for 100,000 bushels. An additional $1,000 bond would be required for each 10,000 bushels over 100,000.

Bonds for grain stored in sacks would be based on market value.

Involved In Mishap

LISBON — Two cars were involved in a minor accident Monday on E. Lincoln Way at the entrance of William's Sohio station. Police said a car driven by Dale L. Allen of Charleroi, Pa., pulling out of the station, was involved in a collision with one driven by Bertha V. Hickman of Rogers R. D. 1. Chief Leon Zahrndt said the cars had been moved when he arrived and no arrests were made.

Talks Set In Detroit June 15

Rhodes To Push Fight Against Lakes Pollution

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the groundwork laid, Gov. James A. Rhodes says he plans to keep the ball rolling in efforts to rid the Great Lakes of pollution. He says the key is increased federal aid, with program control at the state level.

The next meeting to discuss the problem is June 15 in Detroit. Then Rhodes plans to take his arguments to the Governors Conference July 25 in Minneapolis and follow it up at the Sept. 20 meeting of Midwestern Governors Conference at Mackinac Island, Mich.

Rhodes met Monday with Governors Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and George Romney of Michigan—and talked mostly about Lake Erie's problems. The trio, in addition to representatives of five other Great Lakes states plus congreemen and health officials, met for 4½ hours at a meeting called by Rhodes.

Romney issued a call for a follow-up conference in Detroit to be held as part of a session called by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. A report of a three-year study of pollution in the Detroit River will be presented.

Rhodes said he envisions a "Clean Great Lakes Authority" to supervise a gigantic purifying effort. Financing for such a program must come from Washington, he said. "The world's greatest and most valuable fresh water resource is imperiled," Rhodes said. "We must clean it up—now."

Some other comments from some of the nearly 70 participants at the meeting:

Romney—"We ought to take a look at what we can do now, without waiting for further studies and finding out who's going to pay what."

Rockefeller — "Water pollution stands as a barrier to full economic, social, recreational and community development in New York, in the Great Lakes Area, in the nation as a whole."

Dr. E. W. Arnold, director of the Ohio Department of Health —"Lake Erie is being abused, but it is not as bad as made out to be by extremists who were trying to stir public indignation into action for a clean waters program. We admire the motivation but deplore the exaggeration."

Jaycees Set Future Events And Approve New Members

Plans for three forthcoming events were reviewed and three were approved for membership during a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

The annual election of officers will take place May 24 at the Travelers Hotel.

The installation banquet and inaugural ball will be May 29 at the Willows in Industry.

The Jaycees will sponsor the post - prom party Saturday night at Westgate School for East Liverpool High School.

Frank Mangano reported on the Teen-Age Road-E-O contest. The winners will be presented their plaques during the dinner meeting May 24.

Paul Zehnder and Vincent Laneve attended the state convention over the weekend at Dayton. Laneve was the District 20 Speakup Jaycee oratorical contestant.

O. Devere Line of Findlay was elected state president.

The board voted to support the establishment of a Kent State University Center at East Liverpool.

New members approved were Craig R. Walton of Glenmoor, an employe of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.; Barry Berman of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., an employe of Berman Iron & Steel, and Richard Darrah of Orchard Grove Ave., an employe of McKesson & Robins.

Humphrey Gives Democrats Insight On Johnson Policies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given key Democrats the word on presidential policies in a series of hush-hush briefings designed to bolster both party faith and finances.

Humphrey, under tight party security cover, met here Monday with about 300 of the party's top contributors from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

The participants, apparently briefed also on keeping quiet, refused to give anything but bare essentials.

The occasion was the meeting of the President's Club, the elite group whose members donated at least $1,000 each to the Democratic presidential campaign last fall.

A spokesman said the meeting was similar to one held by the late President Kennedy in New York for big party backers.

The group met here at the well-guarded estate of Dr. Joseph Link, an Xavier University professor.

Outside the estate, about 20 student pickets munched graham crackers and chanted for the United States to get out of Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Publicly, Humphrey told a sparse airport crowd the United States would stay in South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic as long as necessary.

In private, he briefed the Democrats on a wide range of Johnson Administration policies, both foreign and domestic.

A top-ranking Ohio Democrat said afterward, "We didn't learn anything we didn't know before. We just got it first-hand."

Former Ohio Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, chairman of Monday's meeting, told newsmen the party is planning two of three more of the briefings. He named Texas and Chicago as possible locations.

Among those attending the three-hour barbecue and briefing were Welfare Secretary Anthony Celebrezze, Eugene Foley of the Small Business Administration, Asst. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, former Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana, former Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky and Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman.

Coleman called the meeting a "lively seminar" with several good questions.

Eisenhower's Car Rifled In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Someone has stolen a spare tire, portable radio, emergency oxygen kit, drugs, a box of candy and a 38-caliber revolver from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's car.

Eisenhower's chauffeur, Ruben Brechbill, told police Monday the theft occurred while the general was staying overnight at Walter Reed Army Hospital for a routine examination.

The car had been parked in the basement garage of an apartment building.

Brechbill said Eisenhower uses the oxygen kit and drugs when short of breath. The pistol belonged to Gen. Robert L. Schulz, Eisenhower's aide.

Stork On The Set

SANTE FE, N.M. (AP) — A Hollywood movie crew was all set to film the first scene of "And Now Miguel" at an old ranch near here. The cast included 1,228 sheep hired for the picture. Three ewes gave birth during the first scene, forcing a retake and raising the rental price of the herd by three head.

St. Clair Sets Deadline For Street Oiling

St. Clair Township residents desiring road oiling are to file orders and pay for the work May 24, township trustees announced today.

At a meeting Monday night the trustees recommended residents along each road and street of the township designate a representative to file the orders and to turn in money May 24 at 7:30 at the township hall.

The trustees said Robert Snyder of Hanoverton or the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton will be chosen later to undertake the work.

The cost will be 12 cents a running foot for a strip 18 feet wide.

The trustees emphasized May 24 will be the deadline for all such orders for the summer oiling program.

In other action, the township constables were directed to increase patrol of Harding Ave. a block west of St. Clair Ave. where traffic is being re-routed during current work on outer St. Clair Ave.

Several residents had requested the increased patrol due to the flow of traffic.

Lesser Charge Filed In Motorist's Arrest

Although a 28-year-old motorist was cited originally on a charge of driving while intoxicated, it will be reduced to a reckless operation count when he is taken into Municipal Court, police said today.

Edward L. King, 912 Watson Ave., still is hospitalized with injuries suffered early Sunday when his auto struck a utility pole and a tree on Dresden Ave.

Police said the citation originally lodged against him now has been changed to reckless driving. King is due for a hearing when he is released from the hospital.

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A bill calling for strict state regulation of grain storage facilities was introduced in the Ohio Senate Monday night by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus (D-Belmont).

Sargus said it was prompted by grain shortages discovered over the last two years in grain elevators throughout Ohio.

It would require licensing of all grain warehouse operators and would require quarterly inspection of storage facilities by the Ohio Commerce Commission.

Upon discovery of a grain shortage, the commission could force the warehouseman to cover the shortage or post an additional bond. The commission could seize all commodities, business property and records of an operator who refused to comply with its orders.

Bonds for bulk grain would range from a minimum of $3,000 for 12,000 bushels to $20,000 for 100,000 bushels. An additional $1,000 bond would be required for each 10,000 bushels over 100,000.

Bonds for grain stored in sacks would be based on market value.

Involved In Mishap

LISBON — Two cars were involved in a minor accident Monday on E. Lincoln Way at the entrance of William's Sohio station. Police said a car driven by Dale L. Allen of Charleroi, Pa., pulling out of the station, was involved in a collision with one driven by Bertha V. Hickman of Rogers R. D. 1. Chief Leon Zahrndt said the cars had been moved when he arrived and no arrests were made.

Talks Set In Detroit June 15

Rhodes To Push Fight Against Lakes Pollution

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the groundwork laid, Gov. James A. Rhodes says he plans to keep the ball rolling in efforts to rid the Great Lakes of pollution. He says the key is increased federal aid, with program control at the state level.

The next meeting to discuss the problem is June 15 in Detroit. Then Rhodes plans to take his arguments to the Governors Conference July 25 in Minneapolis and follow it up at the Sept. 20 meeting of Midwestern Governors Conference at Mackinac Island, Mich.

Rhodes met Monday with Governors Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and George Romney of Michigan—and talked mostly about Lake Erie's problems. The trio, in addition to representatives of five other Great Lakes states plus congreemen and health officials, met for 4½ hours at a meeting called by Rhodes.

Romney issued a call for a follow-up conference in Detroit to be held as part of a session called by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. A report of a three-year study of pollution in the Detroit River will be presented.

Rhodes said he envisions a "Clean Great Lakes Authority" to supervise a gigantic purifying effort. Financing for such a program must come from Washington, he said. "The world's greatest and most valuable fresh water resource is imperiled," Rhodes said. "We must clean it up—now."

Some other comments from some of the nearly 70 participants at the meeting:

Romney—"We ought to take a look at what we can do now, without waiting for further studies and finding out who's going to pay what."

Rockefeller — "Water pollution stands as a barrier to full economic, social, recreational and community development in New York, in the Great Lakes Area, in the nation as a whole."

Dr. E. W. Arnold, director of the Ohio Department of Health —"Lake Erie is being abused, but it is not as bad as made out to be by extremists who were trying to stir public indignation into action for a clean waters program. We admire the motivation but deplore the exaggeration."

Jaycees Set Future Events And Approve New Members

Plans for three forthcoming events were reviewed and three were approved for membership during a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

The annual election of officers will take place May 24 at the Travelers Hotel.

The installation banquet and inaugural ball will be May 29 at the Willows in Industry.

The Jaycees will sponsor the post - prom party Saturday night at Westgate School for East Liverpool High School.

Frank Mangano reported on the Teen-Age Road-E-O contest. The winners will be presented their plaques during the dinner meeting May 24.

Paul Zehnder and Vincent Laneve attended the state convention over the weekend at Dayton. Laneve was the District 20 Speakup Jaycee oratorical contestant.

O. Devere Line of Findlay was elected state president.

The board voted to support the establishment of a Kent State University Center at East Liverpool.

New members approved were Craig R. Walton of Glenmoor, an employe of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.; Barry Berman of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., an employe of Berman Iron & Steel, and Richard Darrah of Orchard Grove Ave., an employe of McKesson & Robins.

Humphrey Gives Democrats Insight On Johnson Policies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given key Democrats the word on presidential policies in a series of hush-hush briefings designed to bolster both party faith and finances.

Humphrey, under tight party security cover, met here Monday with about 300 of the party's top contributors from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

The participants, apparently briefed also on keeping quiet, refused to give anything but bare essentials.

The occasion was the meeting of the President's Club, the elite group whose members donated at least $1,000 each to the Democratic presidential campaign last fall.

A spokesman said the meeting was similar to one held by the late President Kennedy in New York for big party backers.

The group met here at the well-guarded estate of Dr. Joseph Link, an Xavier University professor.

Outside the estate, about 20 student pickets munched graham crackers and chanted for the United States to get out of Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Publicly, Humphrey told a sparse airport crowd the United States would stay in South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic as long as necessary.

In private, he briefed the Democrats on a wide range of Johnson Administration policies, both foreign and domestic.

A top-ranking Ohio Democrat said afterward, "We didn't learn anything we didn't know before. We just got it first-hand."

Former Ohio Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, chairman of Monday's meeting, told newsmen the party is planning two of three more of the briefings. He named Texas and Chicago as possible locations.

Among those attending the three-hour barbecue and briefing were Welfare Secretary Anthony Celebrezze, Eugene Foley of the Small Business Administration, Asst. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, former Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana, former Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky and Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman.

Coleman called the meeting a "lively seminar" with several good questions.

Eisenhower's Car Rifled In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Someone has stolen a spare tire, portable radio, emergency oxygen kit, drugs, a box of candy and a 38-caliber revolver from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's car.

Eisenhower's chauffeur, Ruben Brechbill, told police Monday the theft occurred while the general was staying overnight at Walter Reed Army Hospital for a routine examination.

The car had been parked in the basement garage of an apartment building.

Brechbill said Eisenhower uses the oxygen kit and drugs when short of breath. The pistol belonged to Gen. Robert L. Schulz, Eisenhower's aide.

Stork On The Set

SANTE FE, N.M. (AP) — A Hollywood movie crew was all set to film the first scene of "And Now Miguel" at an old ranch near here. The cast included 1,228 sheep hired for the picture. Three ewes gave birth during the first scene, forcing a retake and raising the rental price of the herd by three head.

St. Clair Sets Deadline For Street Oiling

St. Clair Township residents desiring road oiling are to file orders and pay for the work May 24, township trustees announced today.

At a meeting Monday night the trustees recommended residents along each road and street of the township designate a representative to file the orders and to turn in money May 24 at 7:30 at the township hall.

The trustees said Robert Snyder of Hanoverton or the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton will be chosen later to undertake the work.

The cost will be 12 cents a running foot for a strip 18 feet wide.

The trustees emphasized May 24 will be the deadline for all such orders for the summer oiling program.

In other action, the township constables were directed to increase patrol of Harding Ave. a block west of St. Clair Ave. where traffic is being re-routed during current work on outer St. Clair Ave.

Several residents had requested the increased patrol due to the flow of traffic.

Lesser Charge Filed In Motorist's Arrest

Although a 28-year-old motorist was cited originally on a charge of driving while intoxicated, it will be reduced to a reckless operation count when he is taken into Municipal Court, police said today.

Edward L. King, 912 Watson Ave., still is hospitalized with injuries suffered early Sunday when his auto struck a utility pole and a tree on Dresden Ave.

Police said the citation originally lodged against him now has been changed to reckless driving. King is due for a hearing when he is released from the hospital.

Going In Was Easy

In a question-and-answer interview with Thomas C. Mann, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, Max Frankel of The New York Times has brought out some of the policy problems raised by U.S. action in the Dominican Republic.

One problem in particular has interested almost everybody who has thought about the possible consequences of U.S. intervention. Going in was easy, getting out may be difficult.

If the long-range purpose of the intervention is to prevent establishment of another Communist government in this hemisphere, how will the United States determine whether or not the government to be established is Communist? What will be its standard of judgment?

"It is a matter, essentially, of control and, fortunately, most people in Latin America understand the difference between a liberal and the non-Communist left, if one can call it that, and the Communist left" was the answer.

WHAT ABOUT the difference between left-wing totalitarian governments and right-wing totalitarian governments?

What about the impression that the United States is more sensitive about left-wing regimes than right - ring regimes, such as the Trujillo despotism in the Dominican Republic?

"Left-wing totalitarians that are members of the Communist apparatus are not really indigenous forces. These are, rather, instruments of Sino-Soviet military power, as was demonstrated in the Cuban missile crisis," explained Under Secretary Mann.

But what about the ability of a few Communists to discredit a reform movement by infiltrating it and giving it a Communist identity?

Mr. Mann's answer was that there is no problem in that respect as far as U.S. policy is concerned. Unless and until Communists succeed in actually capturing and controlling a movement, the United States does not discredit the movement, he said.

BUT IN THIS respect, the answer does not cover the eventuality of a government in Latin America, say in the Dominican Republic, composed in part of natives either suspected or accused of Communist sympathy, though not identified with a foreign power. What will the United States and the Organization of American States do about indigenous Communists?

It is the same old question of Yugoslavia and Tito — whether a Communist who does not knuckle under to foreign domination is the same as a Communist identified with a foreign interest.

The toughest part of the Dominican intervention will come when the United States, perhaps with the backing of the Organization of American States, decides what government to back, if any.

The last time it backed Gen. Trujillo a despot.

Is This Fun?

The skateboard craze has caught hold here, but not with the intensity it has in some of the other sections of the country.

And from the casualty lists elsewhere, let's hope it doesn't!

Close to home, Pittsburgh hospitals are being plagued with a series of fractures—arms, legs, feet and wrists. Things have gotten so bad at Braddock General that the nurse in charge of the emergency room at night has declared all-out war on the "boards."

Youngsters have a tendency to follow crazes, but this is one time we hope those here and in the vicinity exercise better judgment and stay away from the skateboards.

Fractures are too big a price to pay for a few moments of fun.

Disagreement Both Ways

President Johnson, it is certain paid more attention to a speech by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York last Thursday than was paid by the few senators who heard it and the many senators who heard about it.

Sen. Kennedy said on the Senate floor that everybody agrees with the President about wanting to prevent establishment of another Communist government in this hemisphere.

He said unilateral action is easier than collective action but that the United States is stronger when it cooperates with its allies.

He then questioned whether the United States had affronted non-Communist "democrats" in the Dominican revolution by lumping them with Communists — a question bubbling to the top in all post-intervention speculation. Do Communists deserve credit for every uprising in which they take a hand. Do ants plan every picnic they attend?

The real impact of the Kennedy skepticism was made in followup reports that Sen. Kennedy's mild remarks on the floor of the Senate were a pale reflection of his private disagreement with President Johnson on the manner in which the United States intervened in the Dominican Republic.

There was bound to be disagreement both ways — whether the United States intervened or did not intervene. But it is certain that approval for President Johnson's strong policy is being counterbalanced by the disapproval of those who think gunboat diplomacy wore itself out a long time ago and never should be revived.

Some of these people have asked what is the difference between the policy of the United States toward the Dominican Republic in 1965 and the policy of the Soviet Union toward Hungary in 1956.

President Johnson is too old a hand in public affairs not to know that opposition is implicit in every executive decision. Sen. Kennedy, to whose criticism he will be especially sensitive, is only one of many who can be expected to wonder if there might have been a better way to deal with the emergency of civil disorder in Santo Domingo.

Discrediting The Witness

The attorney general of Alabama says the Ku Kluxer whose murder trial ended in a deadlocked jury in Haynesville last week will be tried again. The prospects for better luck next time are not bright.

Granted that the prosecution wants to do its duty in this case growing out of the killing of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo's last March 25, it may be impossible to assemble a jury in Alabama that will not be susceptible to the same kind of defense used in the first trial.

The defense attorney, official counsel for the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, went to work aggressively on the chief witness, Gary Thomas Rowe, Jr., a Federal Bureau of Investigation informer who was in the auto from which the shots the prosecution said killed Mrs. Liuzzo were fired.

The defense attorney made such an impression by getting it into the record that Rowe had held up his right hand "before God" and taken an oath to die rather than reveal Klan secrets that two jurors refused to find the defendant guilty.

They said they could not accept the testimony of a man who had broken a Klan oath. During the Klan counsel's questioning of Rowe, it was put into the jurors' minds through questions ruled to be improper in some instances that the defendant was not the accused murderer but the man who was the principal witness against him.

One substantial hope survived the mistrial in Haynesville last week — that every Ku Kluxer in the country, knowing the FBI had an informer among their Alabama brethren, will wonder who among them will be the next to betray the "invisible empire."

Or, as the matter has been summed up wryly in the case of the Communist party in this country, the Klan must be largely supported by the U.S. Treasury through the membership dues of FBI undercover agents.

Sweet Sunday

By Truman Twill

The first nice Sunday in May . . .

Everybody traveled.

Where?

On highways, on lakes.

The affluent society and the consumer economy moved at top speed. Autos were bumper to bumper—by the millions.

The top-down crowd with its bucket seats and four on the floor must make up in derring-do what it lacks in creature comfort — and hasn't everybody noticed that even a homely girl looks cute in those bonnets women are wearing to keep their hair from blowing out of shape?

Young married couples with their back seatful of kids, or somewhat older couples with a station wagonful, are only a few years away from their moment of truth, but they don't know it. They have more fun than anybody.

And the boats . . .

You might as well be nobody as be boatless. The new status symbol of the middle-class is the gleaming boat being pulled on its bright carrier behind the well-polished car occupied by the well-balanced family. Upper-class boats are too big to pull.

One wonders whether some of the boats even get into the water and what happens thereafter — whether it's all that much fun — but no one can wonder about the boating craze. It's big.

So here are all these millions of people on a Sunday afternoon, going somewhere, coming back from somewhere, contributors and beneficiaries of modern America, all conspiculously consuming what they have bought with all their past and most of their future earnings.

Those who aren't on the road, on the beach, in the parks, or up in the air in airplanes, are stretched out in the sun in their own yards, sunburning themselves so they look as red and raw as all the others who went somewhere.

You look at them and wonder what people used to do in the good old days that couldn't have been so good until the horseless carriage came along and everybody with the urge to be somewhere could go there and back the same day, with no questions asked.

Bumper to bumper, trunk to grill, if the finance company can't get you, the mortician will. . .

Everybody has a fine time. That's the general idea of the first nice Sunday in May when the affluent society and the consumer economy whoosh into a high orbit.

And away we go. . .

Will Hall Launch New Labor Era?

By Victor Riesel

Everywhere across the world, as the labor leaders of yesterday become the prime ministers and presidents of today, many statesmen always get around to asking the same question: "Who among the younger union men will some day lead all American labor?"

Victor Riesel

Whoever he will be will have tremendous national and international impact. There are exceptionally well-informed insiders who believe that a clue to the answer can be found in a virtually unnoticed development in Chicago last Wednesday.

There the blond, viking - like, 225 - pound Seafarers Union chief, Paul Hall, stopped a high pressure drive by Jimmy Hoffa dead in its tracks. From a global viewpoint the issue seems infinitesimal.

The battle between Hall and Hoffa ostensibly was over the leadership of 6,000 taxi drivers, employed by the Yellow Cab and the Checker Taxi Companies.

Hall — utterly without fear—personally went into tough Chicago. He went in with only a handful of men, though the small band knew that Hoffa's lieutenant there, Joey Glimco, had been described under oath before the Senate rackets committee as one of 25 men who coordinate Chicago crime.

IT WAS a Teamsters local, headed by Glimco, which had challenged the right of a Seafarers Union local to represent 6,000 hackies.

Hoffa said publicly that he was with Glimco, and those who talked of Glimco talked of him and no one had been able to prove anything on either of them. Strange words for a man twice convicted in the federal courts.

Hall's union beat Hoffa's 2-1. But that is only the story's beginning.

In Chicago Hall discovered that he was also up against a strong phalanx of AFL-CIO union chiefs backing the Hoffa forces. Some 50 AFL-CIO leaders lent their prestige to the Teamsters Brotherhood, which had been ousted from the AFL-CIO in 1957.

This open revolt not only hit at Paul Hall, who is a national AFL-CIO vice president, but at the national president, George Meany.

Meany had dispatched a letter to the 6,000 drivers urging them to vote for Hall's local taxi union. Hoffa's backers hit like karate experts.

ONE LETTER from a powerful labor leader supporting the Teamsters was a classic in proletarian literature. It came from Earl J. McMahon, president of the Chicago and Cook County Building and Construction Trades Council.

"Because I'm concerned over the welfare of all the wage earners in this city, I have examined the controversy that exists over which labor organization should be selected to represent the cab drivers.

"I sincerely believe that the . . . Teamsters in Chicago is eminently superior . . . Possessing great physical and financial strength, the Teamsters organization would be my logical choice . . ."

But Hall, openly walking the Chicago streets, scoffing at the celebrities imported by the Glimco crowd, beat them all.

Hall organized auto caravans carrying coffins decorated with signs saying "Bury the Teamsters." He handed out engraved black-bordered cards inviting the hackies to attend funeral services for Glimco's kind of unionism.

SOME OBSERVERS recalled the time Hall heard that one of the New York waterfront's toughest goons was out to get him. The big seafarer arose early one morning and got out to the docks at dawn. The boss thug was in the center of a shape up. There were 70 men to Hall's three.

Hall broke right into the center of the crowd and in terms saltier than the language on the signs of the students free speech crowd these days, loudly told off the brute. Then Hall slowly walked away.

But Hall is far more than physical — far more than the one man outside the courts who can stop Hoffa. He is just as much at home in the White House dining room as on ship deck. He is as swift with his erudite economic analysis as with his blasphemies.

He is political independent. He has fought mayors and presidents. He took Bob Kennedy on in a running battle when the senator was attorney general.

HALL HAS CALLED on the White House to dismiss Cabinet members who he believes are hurting America's merchant fleet. He's leading in the boycott of ships sailing to Cuba, just as he led in the boycott of Egyptian vessels when American sailors were being molested in Suez Canal ports.

He's one of the few men on whom the AFL-CIO president, George Meany, leans — and on whom there is much to lean on. Hall has wide support among white collar workers whose strike he has backed.

There is a great similarity between this blond giant of today and the iconoclastic John L. Lewis of old. Neither of them ever deferred to anyone.

Like Lewis, Hall is the man who could launch a new era.

Minimum Wage

By David Lawrence

Boost Could Have Far-Reaching Effect

There is a significant debate going on inside the President's Cabinet over the question of whether the President should recommend to Congress an increase in the federal minimum wage. The discussion relates to the possibility that such an action would have a severe impact on the national economy by increasing unemployment and perhaps raising the cost of living.

David Lawrence

The Johnson administration has been urged to go along with the request of the union leaders that the federal minimum wage of $1.25 per hour be increased, but the big question is how much the total increase should be and whether it should be applied gradually over a period of years.

The amount of the increase itself might not be costly in a given year, but it is the indirect effect of a revolutionary change in the whole employment structure which could be the basis for a shakeup in wage scales. This, in turn, would have an effect upon the price of good and goods sold to the consumers.

There are many millions of persons today who are earning below the federal minimum wage, but most of them are doing odd jobs or their classifications of work are exempted by law.

Once a minimum wage is raised, however, other persons occupying a little higher level of employment feel that their wages should be moved up correspondingly.

THIS COULD bring an escalation of wage scales all along the line, for as one class of employes is given an increase, the class just above it feels it is entitled to something of the same kind. This is often referred to as "bumping" the wage scales.

Any change in the minimum-wage rate, therefore, is bound to affect not only the number employed but also the wage costs of many employers throughout the country. It also can mean that those persons without skills who are not considered today to be worth more than $1.25 an hour would find it more difficult to get jobs because it might prove necessary for employers to hire better qualified persons at higher wages rather than to take chances with employes who are not really competent to do the work.

Even more severe may be the effect of the administration's plan to impose a penalty of "double time" — instead of the usual payment at the rate of time-and-a-half — for overtime beyond the normal work shift.

Theoretically, the object is to cause employers to cut down on overtime work and hire more individuals on a regular 40-hour-week basis.

NOT EVERY BUSINESS can economically make such a change. A company which requires only a few hours' work over and above a regular 8-hour shift will feel that it is being penalized. To add more personnel in another shift would be a bigger expense than to handle the same work with some overtime.

These various phases of the employment situation have always been a factor in American economic life. The federal minimum wage has usually operated to intensify the difficulties, particularly since adjustments in many wage scales become necessary. It could take three to five years for employers to absorb these changes.

Another proposal which President Johnson has made is that Congress pass a law requiring the states to abandon their "right to work" laws and thus require workers to join unions, even though they may have personal convictions to the contrary.

Compulsory unionization likewise has the effect of producing higher and higher wage scales. This is because there would be no competitive labor market available to the employer. He could not any longer hire employes who are willing to work in any wage bracket in which they can get a job.

Also, a non-union worker may be willing to join a union, but he will feel that preference is likely to be given to those unemployed who have had a longer period of membership in the unions.

TO INSTITUTE a system of compulsory unionization in the 19 states where "right to work" laws have, up to this time, given the individual freedom of choice is likely to produce considerable economic readjustment.

It will mean that many employers who have expressed opposition to forced unionization may find themselves the victims of reprisals by means of sudden demands for higher wages under threat of costly strikes.

Altogether, the administration is either unaware of the possible economic impact of its proposals at this time for an increased minimum wage and the abandonment of "right to work" laws, or else it is ready to take chances in the belief that the political advantages outweigh the disadvantages. Certainly if the present business boom begins to taper off, the unemployment situation will not get better.

A revision of the minimum-wage rules and the introduction of a system of compulsory unionization will not help to produce stability of either wages or prices.

This could produce adverse political currents for the administration in power.

Another Demonstration

By Edmond Le Breton

WASHINGTON

Congress is about to give another demonstration of how hard it is to do something that is supposed to be popular: cut taxes.

The House Ways and Means Committee goes to work next Monday on legislation for a $1.75-billion annual reduction in those selective sales taxes known as federal excises.

President Johnson's advisers, who want the cut to keep the record peacetime economic boom rolling, are understood to be a bit easier in their minds about two worrisome aspects of the excise tax reduction proposal.

One was the fear that Congress would not stop with a $1.75-billion reduction — or anything close to it—when the pressures built up from makers of the varied assortment of things, automobiles to ball point pens, that are subject to federal excise tax.

But the hold-the-line forces got help from an unexpected quarter: Viet Nam. The $700-million increase in military funds, voted almost unanimously by Congress, inspired demands by Congress members for a redoubled watch on government income and outgo. They have not forgotten that the $11.6-billion income tax cut, voted only last year, was speeded along by predictions that the budget would be balanced during the year beginning July 1, 1966. So at least some legislative leaders now feel the brakes have been tightened and $1.75 billion is a realistic figure for an excise tax cut.

The fiscal planners' other worry is a bit more complicated. Basically, it is a fear that once the exact reductions Congress is working on became known, buyers of the goods affected may go on a temporary strike.

Automobiles provide a good example. The average excise tax on a car is about $235. Not many people expect the administration to recommend, or Congress to approve, outright repeal of the tax, although the automobile industry would welcome it. This repeal alone would cost the Treasury more than the total excise tax reduction it is seeking.

But suppose Congress starts talking about cutting the rate in half, from 10 or 5 per cent? Wouldn't a prospective buyer, seeing a chance of saving more than $100 if he waits until Congress has acted, be inclined to drive the old clunker a little longer?

Or consider those excises that many consider the most likely to be abolished altogether, the 10 per cent retail taxes on jewelry, furs, perfumes and cosmetics, luggage and handbags. All these are popular gift items. Suppose Congress should repeal the taxes on them effective Jan. 1. What would happen to Christmas sales?

Going In Was Easy

In a question-and-answer interview with Thomas C. Mann, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, Max Frankel of The New York Times has brought out some of the policy problems raised by U.S. action in the Dominican Republic.

One problem in particular has interested almost everybody who has thought about the possible consequences of U.S. intervention. Going in was easy, getting out may be difficult.

If the long-range purpose of the intervention is to prevent establishment of another Communist government in this hemisphere, how will the United States determine whether or not the government to be established is Communist? What will be its standard of judgment?

"It is a matter, essentially, of control and, fortunately, most people in Latin America understand the difference between a liberal and the non-Communist left, if one can call it that, and the Communist left" was the answer.

WHAT ABOUT the difference between left-wing totalitarian governments and right-wing totalitarian governments?

What about the impression that the United States is more sensitive about left-wing regimes than right - ring regimes, such as the Trujillo despotism in the Dominican Republic?

"Left-wing totalitarians that are members of the Communist apparatus are not really indigenous forces. These are, rather, instruments of Sino-Soviet military power, as was demonstrated in the Cuban missile crisis," explained Under Secretary Mann.

But what about the ability of a few Communists to discredit a reform movement by infiltrating it and giving it a Communist identity?

Mr. Mann's answer was that there is no problem in that respect as far as U.S. policy is concerned. Unless and until Communists succeed in actually capturing and controlling a movement, the United States does not discredit the movement, he said.

BUT IN THIS respect, the answer does not cover the eventuality of a government in Latin America, say in the Dominican Republic, composed in part of natives either suspected or accused of Communist sympathy, though not identified with a foreign power. What will the United States and the Organization of American States do about indigenous Communists?

It is the same old question of Yugoslavia and Tito — whether a Communist who does not knuckle under to foreign domination is the same as a Communist identified with a foreign interest.

The toughest part of the Dominican intervention will come when the United States, perhaps with the backing of the Organization of American States, decides what government to back, if any.

The last time it backed Gen. Trujillo a despot.

Is This Fun?

The skateboard craze has caught hold here, but not with the intensity it has in some of the other sections of the country.

And from the casualty lists elsewhere, let's hope it doesn't!

Close to home, Pittsburgh hospitals are being plagued with a series of fractures—arms, legs, feet and wrists. Things have gotten so bad at Braddock General that the nurse in charge of the emergency room at night has declared all-out war on the "boards."

Youngsters have a tendency to follow crazes, but this is one time we hope those here and in the vicinity exercise better judgment and stay away from the skateboards.

Fractures are too big a price to pay for a few moments of fun.

Disagreement Both Ways

President Johnson, it is certain paid more attention to a speech by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York last Thursday than was paid by the few senators who heard it and the many senators who heard about it.

Sen. Kennedy said on the Senate floor that everybody agrees with the President about wanting to prevent establishment of another Communist government in this hemisphere.

He said unilateral action is easier than collective action but that the United States is stronger when it cooperates with its allies.

He then questioned whether the United States had affronted non-Communist "democrats" in the Dominican revolution by lumping them with Communists — a question bubbling to the top in all post-intervention speculation. Do Communists deserve credit for every uprising in which they take a hand. Do ants plan every picnic they attend?

The real impact of the Kennedy skepticism was made in followup reports that Sen. Kennedy's mild remarks on the floor of the Senate were a pale reflection of his private disagreement with President Johnson on the manner in which the United States intervened in the Dominican Republic.

There was bound to be disagreement both ways — whether the United States intervened or did not intervene. But it is certain that approval for President Johnson's strong policy is being counterbalanced by the disapproval of those who think gunboat diplomacy wore itself out a long time ago and never should be revived.

Some of these people have asked what is the difference between the policy of the United States toward the Dominican Republic in 1965 and the policy of the Soviet Union toward Hungary in 1956.

President Johnson is too old a hand in public affairs not to know that opposition is implicit in every executive decision. Sen. Kennedy, to whose criticism he will be especially sensitive, is only one of many who can be expected to wonder if there might have been a better way to deal with the emergency of civil disorder in Santo Domingo.

Discrediting The Witness

The attorney general of Alabama says the Ku Kluxer whose murder trial ended in a deadlocked jury in Haynesville last week will be tried again. The prospects for better luck next time are not bright.

Granted that the prosecution wants to do its duty in this case growing out of the killing of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo's last March 25, it may be impossible to assemble a jury in Alabama that will not be susceptible to the same kind of defense used in the first trial.

The defense attorney, official counsel for the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, went to work aggressively on the chief witness, Gary Thomas Rowe, Jr., a Federal Bureau of Investigation informer who was in the auto from which the shots the prosecution said killed Mrs. Liuzzo were fired.

The defense attorney made such an impression by getting it into the record that Rowe had held up his right hand "before God" and taken an oath to die rather than reveal Klan secrets that two jurors refused to find the defendant guilty.

They said they could not accept the testimony of a man who had broken a Klan oath. During the Klan counsel's questioning of Rowe, it was put into the jurors' minds through questions ruled to be improper in some instances that the defendant was not the accused murderer but the man who was the principal witness against him.

One substantial hope survived the mistrial in Haynesville last week — that every Ku Kluxer in the country, knowing the FBI had an informer among their Alabama brethren, will wonder who among them will be the next to betray the "invisible empire."

Or, as the matter has been summed up wryly in the case of the Communist party in this country, the Klan must be largely supported by the U.S. Treasury through the membership dues of FBI undercover agents.

Sweet Sunday

By Truman Twill

The first nice Sunday in May . . .

Everybody traveled.

Where?

On highways, on lakes.

The affluent society and the consumer economy moved at top speed. Autos were bumper to bumper—by the millions.

The top-down crowd with its bucket seats and four on the floor must make up in derring-do what it lacks in creature comfort — and hasn't everybody noticed that even a homely girl looks cute in those bonnets women are wearing to keep their hair from blowing out of shape?

Young married couples with their back seatful of kids, or somewhat older couples with a station wagonful, are only a few years away from their moment of truth, but they don't know it. They have more fun than anybody.

And the boats . . .

You might as well be nobody as be boatless. The new status symbol of the middle-class is the gleaming boat being pulled on its bright carrier behind the well-polished car occupied by the well-balanced family. Upper-class boats are too big to pull.

One wonders whether some of the boats even get into the water and what happens thereafter — whether it's all that much fun — but no one can wonder about the boating craze. It's big.

So here are all these millions of people on a Sunday afternoon, going somewhere, coming back from somewhere, contributors and beneficiaries of modern America, all conspiculously consuming what they have bought with all their past and most of their future earnings.

Those who aren't on the road, on the beach, in the parks, or up in the air in airplanes, are stretched out in the sun in their own yards, sunburning themselves so they look as red and raw as all the others who went somewhere.

You look at them and wonder what people used to do in the good old days that couldn't have been so good until the horseless carriage came along and everybody with the urge to be somewhere could go there and back the same day, with no questions asked.

Bumper to bumper, trunk to grill, if the finance company can't get you, the mortician will. . .

Everybody has a fine time. That's the general idea of the first nice Sunday in May when the affluent society and the consumer economy whoosh into a high orbit.

And away we go. . .

Will Hall Launch New Labor Era?

By Victor Riesel

Everywhere across the world, as the labor leaders of yesterday become the prime ministers and presidents of today, many statesmen always get around to asking the same question: "Who among the younger union men will some day lead all American labor?"

Victor Riesel

Whoever he will be will have tremendous national and international impact. There are exceptionally well-informed insiders who believe that a clue to the answer can be found in a virtually unnoticed development in Chicago last Wednesday.

There the blond, viking - like, 225 - pound Seafarers Union chief, Paul Hall, stopped a high pressure drive by Jimmy Hoffa dead in its tracks. From a global viewpoint the issue seems infinitesimal.

The battle between Hall and Hoffa ostensibly was over the leadership of 6,000 taxi drivers, employed by the Yellow Cab and the Checker Taxi Companies.

Hall — utterly without fear—personally went into tough Chicago. He went in with only a handful of men, though the small band knew that Hoffa's lieutenant there, Joey Glimco, had been described under oath before the Senate rackets committee as one of 25 men who coordinate Chicago crime.

IT WAS a Teamsters local, headed by Glimco, which had challenged the right of a Seafarers Union local to represent 6,000 hackies.

Hoffa said publicly that he was with Glimco, and those who talked of Glimco talked of him and no one had been able to prove anything on either of them. Strange words for a man twice convicted in the federal courts.

Hall's union beat Hoffa's 2-1. But that is only the story's beginning.

In Chicago Hall discovered that he was also up against a strong phalanx of AFL-CIO union chiefs backing the Hoffa forces. Some 50 AFL-CIO leaders lent their prestige to the Teamsters Brotherhood, which had been ousted from the AFL-CIO in 1957.

This open revolt not only hit at Paul Hall, who is a national AFL-CIO vice president, but at the national president, George Meany.

Meany had dispatched a letter to the 6,000 drivers urging them to vote for Hall's local taxi union. Hoffa's backers hit like karate experts.

ONE LETTER from a powerful labor leader supporting the Teamsters was a classic in proletarian literature. It came from Earl J. McMahon, president of the Chicago and Cook County Building and Construction Trades Council.

"Because I'm concerned over the welfare of all the wage earners in this city, I have examined the controversy that exists over which labor organization should be selected to represent the cab drivers.

"I sincerely believe that the . . . Teamsters in Chicago is eminently superior . . . Possessing great physical and financial strength, the Teamsters organization would be my logical choice . . ."

But Hall, openly walking the Chicago streets, scoffing at the celebrities imported by the Glimco crowd, beat them all.

Hall organized auto caravans carrying coffins decorated with signs saying "Bury the Teamsters." He handed out engraved black-bordered cards inviting the hackies to attend funeral services for Glimco's kind of unionism.

SOME OBSERVERS recalled the time Hall heard that one of the New York waterfront's toughest goons was out to get him. The big seafarer arose early one morning and got out to the docks at dawn. The boss thug was in the center of a shape up. There were 70 men to Hall's three.

Hall broke right into the center of the crowd and in terms saltier than the language on the signs of the students free speech crowd these days, loudly told off the brute. Then Hall slowly walked away.

But Hall is far more than physical — far more than the one man outside the courts who can stop Hoffa. He is just as much at home in the White House dining room as on ship deck. He is as swift with his erudite economic analysis as with his blasphemies.

He is political independent. He has fought mayors and presidents. He took Bob Kennedy on in a running battle when the senator was attorney general.

HALL HAS CALLED on the White House to dismiss Cabinet members who he believes are hurting America's merchant fleet. He's leading in the boycott of ships sailing to Cuba, just as he led in the boycott of Egyptian vessels when American sailors were being molested in Suez Canal ports.

He's one of the few men on whom the AFL-CIO president, George Meany, leans — and on whom there is much to lean on. Hall has wide support among white collar workers whose strike he has backed.

There is a great similarity between this blond giant of today and the iconoclastic John L. Lewis of old. Neither of them ever deferred to anyone.

Like Lewis, Hall is the man who could launch a new era.

Minimum Wage

By David Lawrence

Boost Could Have Far-Reaching Effect

There is a significant debate going on inside the President's Cabinet over the question of whether the President should recommend to Congress an increase in the federal minimum wage. The discussion relates to the possibility that such an action would have a severe impact on the national economy by increasing unemployment and perhaps raising the cost of living.

David Lawrence

The Johnson administration has been urged to go along with the request of the union leaders that the federal minimum wage of $1.25 per hour be increased, but the big question is how much the total increase should be and whether it should be applied gradually over a period of years.

The amount of the increase itself might not be costly in a given year, but it is the indirect effect of a revolutionary change in the whole employment structure which could be the basis for a shakeup in wage scales. This, in turn, would have an effect upon the price of good and goods sold to the consumers.

There are many millions of persons today who are earning below the federal minimum wage, but most of them are doing odd jobs or their classifications of work are exempted by law.

Once a minimum wage is raised, however, other persons occupying a little higher level of employment feel that their wages should be moved up correspondingly.

THIS COULD bring an escalation of wage scales all along the line, for as one class of employes is given an increase, the class just above it feels it is entitled to something of the same kind. This is often referred to as "bumping" the wage scales.

Any change in the minimum-wage rate, therefore, is bound to affect not only the number employed but also the wage costs of many employers throughout the country. It also can mean that those persons without skills who are not considered today to be worth more than $1.25 an hour would find it more difficult to get jobs because it might prove necessary for employers to hire better qualified persons at higher wages rather than to take chances with employes who are not really competent to do the work.

Even more severe may be the effect of the administration's plan to impose a penalty of "double time" — instead of the usual payment at the rate of time-and-a-half — for overtime beyond the normal work shift.

Theoretically, the object is to cause employers to cut down on overtime work and hire more individuals on a regular 40-hour-week basis.

NOT EVERY BUSINESS can economically make such a change. A company which requires only a few hours' work over and above a regular 8-hour shift will feel that it is being penalized. To add more personnel in another shift would be a bigger expense than to handle the same work with some overtime.

These various phases of the employment situation have always been a factor in American economic life. The federal minimum wage has usually operated to intensify the difficulties, particularly since adjustments in many wage scales become necessary. It could take three to five years for employers to absorb these changes.

Another proposal which President Johnson has made is that Congress pass a law requiring the states to abandon their "right to work" laws and thus require workers to join unions, even though they may have personal convictions to the contrary.

Compulsory unionization likewise has the effect of producing higher and higher wage scales. This is because there would be no competitive labor market available to the employer. He could not any longer hire employes who are willing to work in any wage bracket in which they can get a job.

Also, a non-union worker may be willing to join a union, but he will feel that preference is likely to be given to those unemployed who have had a longer period of membership in the unions.

TO INSTITUTE a system of compulsory unionization in the 19 states where "right to work" laws have, up to this time, given the individual freedom of choice is likely to produce considerable economic readjustment.

It will mean that many employers who have expressed opposition to forced unionization may find themselves the victims of reprisals by means of sudden demands for higher wages under threat of costly strikes.

Altogether, the administration is either unaware of the possible economic impact of its proposals at this time for an increased minimum wage and the abandonment of "right to work" laws, or else it is ready to take chances in the belief that the political advantages outweigh the disadvantages. Certainly if the present business boom begins to taper off, the unemployment situation will not get better.

A revision of the minimum-wage rules and the introduction of a system of compulsory unionization will not help to produce stability of either wages or prices.

This could produce adverse political currents for the administration in power.

Another Demonstration

By Edmond Le Breton

WASHINGTON — Congress is about to give another demonstration of how hard it is to do something that is supposed to be popular: cut taxes.

The House Ways and Means Committee goes to work next Monday on legislation for a $1.75-billion annual reduction in those selective sales taxes known as federal excises.

President Johnson's advisers, who want the cut to keep the record peacetime economic boom rolling, are understood to be a bit easier in their minds about two worrisome aspects of the excise tax reduction proposal.

One was the fear that Congress would not stop with a $1.75-billion reduction — or anything close to it—when the pressures built up from makers of the varied assortment of things, automobiles to ball point pens, that are subject to federal excise tax.

But the hold-the-line forces got help from an unexpected quarter: Viet Nam. The $700-million increase in military funds, voted almost unanimously by Congress, inspired demands by Congress members for a redoubled watch on government income and outgo. They have not forgotten that the $11.6-billion income tax cut, voted only last year, was speeded along by predictions that the budget would be balanced during the year beginning July 1, 1966. So at least some legislative leaders now feel the brakes have been tightened and $1.75 billion is a realistic figure for an excise tax cut.

The fiscal planners' other worry is a bit more complicated. Basically, it is a fear that once the exact reductions Congress is working on became known, buyers of the goods affected may go on a temporary strike.

Automobiles provide a good example. The average excise tax on a car is about $235. Not many people expect the administration to recommend, or Congress to approve, outright repeal of the tax, although the automobile industry would welcome it. This repeal alone would cost the Treasury more than the total excise tax reduction it is seeking.

But suppose Congress starts talking about cutting the rate in half, from 10 or 5 per cent? Wouldn't a prospective buyer, seeing a chance of saving more than $100 if he waits until Congress has acted, be inclined to drive the old clunker a little longer?

Or consider those excises that many consider the most likely to be abolished altogether, the 10 per cent retail taxes on jewelry, furs, perfumes and cosmetics, luggage and handbags. All these are popular gift items. Suppose Congress should repeal the taxes on them effective Jan. 1. What would happen to Christmas sales?

found abandoned at 1:36 a. m. today on the parking lot at the American Vitrified Products Co. plant on Virginia Ave., police said.

Officers said a brother-in-law of Mikeals, Edward Reight, also of 914 Railroad St., reported a wallet containing $110 was stolen from his trousers pocket in his bedroom while he slept. Reight reported the theft at 6:17 a. m. today. He said the money was taken some time after 11 Monday night. The home was unlocked, he added.

Fiorillo reported the theft of his auto at 1 this morning to Patrolman David K. Mumaw, the desk officer at headquarters.

At 2:01 a. m., Patrolman Ronald J. Brookes, walking a beat on foot, notified the desk officer he had seen Fiorillo's car headed east on E. 5th St.

The desk officer relayed the report via radio to Lt. William E. McDaniel, who was in a cruiser on the River Rd.; Patrolman W. J. Buckley, who was in a police car in East End, and Patrolman J. A. Walsh, in a cruiser on Market St.

Walsh turned his cruiser into Drury Ln. and proceeded toward E. 5th St. He said he found an auto which fitted the description of the stolen car wrecked against the utility pole and saw a man running from the scene. He notified McDaniel by radio.

Walsh shouted to the fleeing man to stop, but he did not comply. The suspect jumped from the sidewalk into a sunken porch area, where he was apprehended and placed under arrest, the officers said.

Mikeals was ordered to place his hands against the wall of the house while he was searched and handcuffed. Walsh and Patrolman Howard Frontz then took him to the hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the crash.

Officers said they found among his property $109.55. A patrolman was stationed at the door of Mikeals' room at the hospital. Police said he is booked on suspicion of auto theft and indicated formal charges will be filed later in Municipal Court.

Police said Mikeals is on parole from the Marion Correctional Institute, where he had served a sentence on a fraudulent check charge.

Walsh filed an affidavit this morning in Municipal Court accusing Mikeals of theft of Fiorillo's auto.

Girl, Boy From County To Attend Forestry Camp

Two Columbiana County young people will attend the 15th annual State Forestry Camp at Tar Hollow State Park June 13-19, under sponsorship of the East Liverpool Review and Salem News.

The county 4-H Awards and Recognition Committee has selected Linda Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Little of East Rochester R. D. 1, and Jerry Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ward of Columbiana R.D. 1, to represent county 4-H'ers at the camp.

Also attending from the county will be John Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Graham of Oak St., Salem, and Ronald Ludwig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Ludwig of Teegarden Rd., R.D. 3, Salem. They are being sponsored by the Salem Hunt Club.

The camping program includes professional foresters and conservationists who teach and conduct field laboratory periods in forest management, wood utilization, reforestation and plantation management, watershed management, plant relationship and tree identification.

The schedule at camp calls for a briefing session followed by lectures and field trips in each subject, and ending with a summary session. A field tour to the Mead Corp. pulp and paper mill on the last day is part of the week's activities.

There is also a great deal of fun and inspiration at camp, with camp fires, vesper programs, scheduled recreation periods, including swimming.

The camp emphasizes the purpose of resource management.

Two other objectives are to encourge interest in conservation knowledge and give students the opportunity to work with experienced field technicians and outstanding conservation educators.

The camp is sponsored by the Ohio Forestry Association, Inc.

Woman Bids For Mayor At Cumbelrand

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. John P. Jones of Third Ave. has withdrawn her candidacy for the Ward 3 council seat and filed as a candidate for mayor.

Saturday at midnight was the filing deadline for persons wishing to be candidates in the June 8 city election here. Mrs. Jones was among five who entered under the deadline.

She now is serving on council from Ward 3 and had filed for re-election to that position. Welty M. Vulgamore Jr. did not file for re-election to the mayor post.

Other mayor candidates are John R. Arbogast Jr. of Pearl St. and Robert Harris of Ridge Ave.

Filing as candidates for council and their wards are: Lawrence T. Andrews and Raymond L. Bailey, both Ward 1; Charles J. Woofter, Ward 2, and Michael Chupa, Ward 3.

Other candidates who had filed earlier as council candidates are: Harry Young, Ward 1; Ralph Ward, Ward 2, and George Weigle, Ward 3.

Four Escapees Returned To Jail

NEW CUMBERLAND — Four 15-year-old youths who escaped from the County Jail Friday night were returned Monday afternoon from Hollidaysburg, Pa., where they had been picked up Sunday evening by Hollidaysburg police.

John Grossi, Hancock juvenile officer, and a deputy from the Hancock County sheriff's department returned the youths.

Three of the juveniles, all of Weirton, had been charged with stealing a car in Weirton about two weeks ago. The fourth, of New Cumberland, had been charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

The four were accused of stealing another car from the vicinity of Wiley Ridge, near their escape.

Bleeding Proves Fatal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Florence Aadland, 55, mother of the late Errol Flynn's protege, Beverly Aadland, died Monday while under treatment for intestinal bleeding and cirrhosis of the liver. Mrs. Aadland was convicted in 1960 of contributing to her daughter's delinquency and sentenced to 90 days in jail.

2 Who Reported Hayden's 'Death' Have Apologized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Princeton University political scientists who reported the "death" of Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., have apologized. "Our oversight has returned to haunt us," they told him.

Hayden, 87, pointed out to Walter F. Murphy and Marver H. Bernstein last week that a footnote in their textbook said he died in 1962. That, the senator said, "is not in accord with the latest edition of the Congressional Directory."

The authors replied by letter that they had deleted the bobble from subsequent printings of the book, but "we have had a pall over our lives knowing that we were unsuccessful in burying the error."

WE'VE BEEN SELLING WUNDA WEAVE FOR 14 YEARS NONE OF IT HAS WORN OUT YET!

Think about that statement a minute. Without proof . . . without seeing ourselves just what Wunda Weve has done, we certainly couldn't make it. And we can prove it by the Wunda Weve we have on our store floor . . . it's years old, and shows no signs of wearing out yet. Wunda Weve (in particular, Wunda Loom that we're offering) just won't wear out . . . that's why we highly recommend it for heavy traffic areas. Thousands of feet have walked over the Wunda Weve on our floor. Come see how well it has withstood the traffic!

Wunda Weve Cotton Carpets are LOOM WOVEN. This means that the face (or pile) and the backing are actually woven together in a lock stitch, making it impossible for the face yarns to pull out; whereas cheaper carpeting uses hemp, jute or other backing, and the face is punched into the backing. In time, tufts pull completely out.

The more luxurious a carpet, the denser (closer together) the pile yarns will be. Double up a piece of Wunda Loom . . . note the density of the pile. Then bend a comparably-priced piece of wool or synthetic — the difference is actually there for you to see.

No bothersome static electricity . . . and because it is cotton, it's mothproof right from the seed! Wunda Loom is PRESHRUNK. It is actually washed after it has been woven . . . countless years of washing either by you or a commercial cleaner will alter the size less than 1%.

Wunda Loom receives a special and EXCLUSIVE finishing process that gives it remarkable resistance to everyday soiling and staining. And the finish remains, even after years of washing. Wunda Loom is COLOR FAST. Only the very finest dyes are used, and even better — it is dyed in the raw fiber stage. The color is all the way through.

But this is only part of our story. Come see and hear the rest in our store — tomorrow. Then COMPARE! Wunda Loom is the plushiest, most luxurious carpeting we've ever seen even at $14.95, and at $9.95 it's a STEAL! But remember — month of May only.

Ziegler also commented that the area south of W. 3rd St. and upstream from the Newell Bridge — outside the tract that would be set aside for industry — appears to lend itself for development of new apartment buildings with a view of the river.

In connection with the downtown report, Ziegler reminded the members that a subcommittee headed by Alvin T. Babb is beginning a new survey of businessmen.

Drunk Twice, City Man Gets Pair Of Fines

Facing Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning for the second time in 24 hours on an intoxication charge, an East Liverpool man drew fines and costs that will keep him behind bars at the County Jail for nearly two months.

James Taylor of Smithfield St. was fined $100 and costs on a new intoxication charge and the court also imposed a fine of $50 and costs which had been suspended yesterday on condition of good behavior. "Laying out" the two fines in the Lisbon jail will require approximately 55 days.

Judge Chertoff gave Taylor a severe tongue - lashing before pronouncing sentence.

"I'll keep you out of circulation as long as I can," the judge said. "If the law allowed me to send you to the penitentiary for this offense, that's where you would be.

"It's a shame we have to pay good tax money to support people like you," the judge added.

He pointed out that he suspended a $50 fine for Taylor Monday because the defendant had not been before him for four months and claimed that he had a job on a farm.

But Taylor was arrested again on an intoxication charge last night at 7:24 on Ohio Ave.

Drunk Twice, City Man Gets Pair Of Fines

Facing Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning for the second time in 24 hours on an intoxication charge, an East Liverpool man drew fines and costs that will keep him behind bars at the County Jail for nearly two months.

"It's a shame we have to pay good tax money to support people like you," the judge added.

He pointed out that he suspended a $50 fine for Taylor Monday because the defendant had not been before him for four months and claimed that he had a job on a farm.

Jury To Open Study Of City Entry Charge

A jury in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon is expected to begin deliberations this afternoon in the case of Carl Lee Hawk Jr. of Wellsville, charged with burglary Feb. 19 at Cooper's American Oil Co. service station on E. 3rd St. at Washington St.

Closing arguments of counsel were being heard late this morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. The trial opened Monday, when the panel of seven men and five women inspected the scene of the alleged entry.

Witnesses for the state included John F. Cooper, owner and manager, who described how he left the station on Feb. 18 and how he found it when he was called by police around 12:30 a. m. Feb. 19.

Stephen D. Keuper, who lives three doors from the station on the other side of the street, told the jury how he had heard glass break at the station and how he stood across the street and watched the defendant in the station before police arrived.

Lt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Jack Strobel of the police department explained entrance to the station was gained by breaking out a window. They had to crawl in the opening to enter the station and found Hawk coming from a rear door, they said. They also said they had to search the station twice before they found William K. Hunt of East Liverpool hiding in an oil drum with a loaded revolver.

Hunt, who was indicted along with Hawk, and who asked for immediate sentencing was given 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary. He testified for Hawk, claiming that he alone went into the station and that he didn't know that Hawk came into the station. Hunt was asked by Asst. Prosecutor James Primm where he had gotten the revolver, but he refused to answer.

Judge Buzzard asked him if he understood the question and advised him that the court ordered him to answer the prosecution's question. Hunt refused, claiming he didn't want to get the former owner in trouble, so Judge Buzzard found him in contempt and ordered that he will serve 90 days in the County Jail when he is released from the penitentiary and also pay a $500 fine.

Hunt told the jury he met Hawk at the Marion Correctional Institute while he was there sometime in January, but said they were not together the night of the burglary. Hawk took the stand in his behalf and told the jury he had to go to the restroom and saw the window broken so went inside and used the restroom and was coming out when the police arrived.

Approximately $3.65 in change from the cigarette machine was found in the station and papers strewn over the office, but nothing else was taken, Cooper told the court.

Hawk also was indicted for armed robbery of $90 from Robert Freeman at Betty's Store Feb. 19, and this case is expected to begin at the conclusion of the robbery trial.

Building Plans Revised

Rogers Eyes Combining Clerk, Treasurer Posts

ROGERS — A combining of the posts of clerk and treasurer was approved tentatively by Council Monday night and legislation authorizing the merger ordered prepared.

Treasurer Arnold Green requested the action, pointing out the village does not have an annual appropriation of more than $25,000 a year. He said the Ohio auditor's office also has recommended the combining of the post of clerk, with a salary of $300 annually, and treasurer, which pays $100.

Council approved the recommendation and requested Solicitor Donald Elliott to prepare legislation authorizing the move. If the action can be undertaken, the combined post would be up for election in the November balloting.

Mrs. Maine Hall is the present clerk. Green said he will not run for re-election or for the combined post.

Council also changed previous plans to build a municipal building along Route 7 because of a lack of finances.

The plans now call for erection of a garage to house village vehicles and equipment.

Construction of a village building housing a council chambers, a mayor's office and public meeting room along with a garage had been originally considered for the site which the village purchased from the Youngstown & Southern Railroad two years ago.

However, because of the cost of the proposed project, which would have required a levy, Council decided to construct only a garage.

Complaints against excessive speed of vehicles and careless driving were filed with Council by four women — Miss Zoe Thomas, Mrs. Harley Wright, Mrs. Harley Walters and Mrs. Edson Walters.

They said children are endangered by the hazardous traffic conditions and urged village officials to enforce traffic regulations.

Councilmen indicated that Sidney Cowan, marshal and Ohio Highway Department employe who often works out of the village, would be asked to devote more time on traffic conditions.

Council approved purchase of a new red flasher light for the marshal's cruiser at a cost of $45.

The purchase of a $350 resuscitator for the village and to be put in the custody of the volunteer fire department was also approved.

The annual cleanup day trash collection was scheduled for May 22.

Council authorized the purchase of crosswalk paint and limestone for use on streets to curb dust.

Bills of $235 were paid. Councilman Glenn Baker was absent.

The next meeting will be June 7.

More Testimony Heard In Action

LISBON — Testimony continued today in Common Pleas Court in a suit filed by Mildred J. Walker of Hanoverton R. D. against the E. W. Bliss Manufacturing Co. of Salem and Elmer A. Keller, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation at Columbus.

Mrs. Walker has charged she was refused by the company and bureau permission to participate in workmen's compensation for herself and three minor children after the death of her husband, Thomas G. Walker, Dec. 12, 1961.

She claims her husband's death from a heart attack was caused by his helping to move a blueprint machine Nov. 23, 1961. She said the machine tilted and spilled ammonia over him, causing the severe choking and coughing which brought on the attack.

The Canton regional board refused the claim and the Board of Appeals upheld the action.

Jury To Open Study Of City Entry Charge

A jury in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon is expected to begin deliberations this afternoon in the case of Carl Lee Hawk Jr. of Wellsville, charged with burglary Feb. 19 at Cooper's American Oil Co. service station on E. 3rd St. at Washington St.

Closing arguments of counsel were being heard late this morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. The trial opened Monday, when the panel of seven men and five women inspected the scene of the alleged entry.

Witnesses for the state included John F. Cooper, owner and manager, who described how he left the station on Feb. 18 and how he found it when he was called by police around 12:30 a. m. Feb. 19.

Stephen D. Keuper, who lives three doors from the station on the other side of the street, told the jury how he had heard glass break at the station and how he stood across the street and watched the defendant in the station before police arrived.

Lt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Jack Strobel of the police department explained entrance to the station was gained by breaking out a window. They had to crawl in the opening to enter the station and found Hawk coming from a rear door, they said. They also said they had to search the station twice before they found William K. Hunt of East Liverpool hiding in an oil drum with a loaded revolver.

Hunt, who was indicted along with Hawk, and who asked for immediate sentencing was given 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary. He testified for Hawk, claiming that he alone went into the station and that he didn't know that Hawk came into the station. Hunt was asked by Asst. Prosecutor James Primm where he had gotten the revolver, but he refused to answer.

Judge Buzzard asked him if he understood the question and advised him that the court ordered him to answer the prosecution's question. Hunt refused, claiming he didn't want to get the former owner in trouble, so Judge Buzzard found him in contempt and ordered that he will serve 90 days in the County Jail when he is released from the penitentiary and also pay a $500 fine.

Hunt told the jury he met Hawk at the Marion Correctional Institute while he was there sometime in January, but said they were not together the night of the burglary. Hawk took the stand in his behalf and told the jury he had to go to the restroom and saw the window broken so went inside and used the restroom and was coming out when the police arrived.

Approximately $3.65 in change from the cigarette machine was found in the station and papers strewn over the office, but nothing else was taken, Cooper told the court.

Hawk also was indicted for armed robbery of $90 from Robert Freeman at Betty's Store Feb. 19, and this case is expected to begin at the conclusion of the robbery trial.

Building Plans Revised

Rogers Eyes Combining Clerk, Treasurer Posts

ROGERS — A combining of the posts of clerk and treasurer was approved tentatively by Council Monday night and legislation authorizing the merger ordered prepared.

Treasurer Arnold Green requested the action, pointing out the village does not have an annual appropriation of more than $25,000 a year. He said the Ohio auditor's office also has recommended the combining of the post of clerk, with a salary of $300 annually, and treasurer, which pays $100.

Council approved the recommendation and requested Solicitor Donald Elliott to prepare legislation authorizing the move. If the action can be undertaken, the combined post would be up for election in the November balloting.

Mrs. Maine Hall is the present clerk. Green said he will not run for re-election or for the combined post.

Council also changed previous plans to build a municipal building along Route 7 because of a lack of finances.

The plans now call for erection of a garage to house village vehicles and equipment.

Construction of a village building housing a council chambers, a mayor's office and public meeting room along with a garage had been originally considered for the site which the village purchased from the Youngstown & Southern Railroad two years ago.

However, because of the cost of the proposed project, which would have required a levy, Council decided to construct only a garage.

Complaints against excessive speed of vehicles and careless driving were filed with Council by four women — Miss Zoe Thomas, Mrs. Harley Wright, Mrs. Harley Walters and Mrs. Edson Walters.

They said children are endangered by the hazardous traffic conditions and urged village officials to enforce traffic regulations.

Councilmen indicated that Sidney Cowan, marshal and Ohio Highway Department employe who often works out of the village, would be asked to devote more time on traffic conditions.

Council approved purchase of a new red flasher light for the marshal's cruiser at a cost of $45.

The annual cleanup day trash collection was scheduled for May 22.

Trustees Call Off Meeting In Face Of Protest March

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Public school trustees canceled a meeting Monday night as more than 1,000 protesting Negroes marched toward the school administration building. Pupils boycotted classes at five Negro high schools earlier in the day.

Leaders said the one - day demonstration was intended to show that Houston Negroes are dissatisfied at grade-a-year desegregation of city schools. Integration by court order now covers the first five grades.

Mayor Louie Welch told school board president Bob Eckels the meeting should be called off after the protest march began. Eckels said he was told no more than 150 were taking part and they drove in the mayor's car to take a look.

What they saw convinced Eckels the meeting should be called off, Welch said.

Of 10,819 Negroes enrolled in the city's five high schools, 9,169 were absent Monday. Hundreds of junior high pupils also stayed away.

The marchers stopped at a locked parking lot gate beneath which barbed wire had been strung. Estimates on the size of the crowd ranged from 1,000 to 3,000.

Marchers sang songs, shouted slogans and waved placards for about an hour and a half before they dispersed.

Police arrested a white man accused of trying to run over two Negro girls with a car and then cursing them. The girls declined to press charges and he was released.

Eckels called the boycott and subsequent march "a black eye for the city of Houston." He said there will be no acceleration of the court-ordered grade-a-year integration "at this time."

Mayor Merrill Hall, in proclaiming the observance here, emphasized that "many of Ohio's veterans have reached a time in their lives when they are particularly vulnerable to all of the major labor force problems of our times; many are beginning to feel the impact of automation; some are being displaced from their jobs for the first time since the war at a time in their lives when financial demands on them are heaviest."

POINTING OUT "they served the nation well in time of national peril," the mayor declared "we, therefore, should now serve them well at a time of economic peril."

He said "it behooves all of us who know the value of the training and skills acquired by veterans to remind the community of that value and to remind employers that skills learned in the service often are skills transferable to civilian pursuits."

In concluding the proclamation, the mayor urged employers to make their labor demands known through the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service, "where veterans will receive the priority to jobs as provided by law, and which is their due."

The week also has been proclaimed statewide by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, Employment Service Division, will cooperate in the promotion of the week in conjunction with veteran service organizations and community service organizations throughout the state of Ohio.

—:—

THE THEME for the week will be "Jobs For The Living."

A total of 47,665 qualified veterans was placed by the BUC offices last year in Ohio, according to Charles R. Boso, manager of the local OSES office on Washington St.

He explained how veterans of the armed forces receive priority of referral to jobs through his office.

"A federal statute requires the employment service to give veterans preference for referral to job openings when qualified veterans are available. So when we receive a job order, the first thing we do is search our file of employment applications from veterans. From this list, we call in likely applicants for veterans' knowledge, skill and ability in terms of the employer's specifications for performance of the job. Qualified veterans who can best meet these specifications are the persons we send out to the employer."

Wellsville Board Pledges Support For College Plan

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night adopted a resolution pledging support for a community college project in Columbiana County.

Supt. Lowell Myers reported a study is being made to determine the needs of youths and adults for higher education.

The Wellsville board has been asked to select four representatives from the district to work toward the organization of a college.

The adopted resolution pledge support to develop and improve opportunities for higher education.

—:—

IN OTHER business, the board hired a special education teacher and accepted the resignations of five other instructors.

William Rigby, a former teacher in Wellsville, will supervise a special education class next term. His salary will be $4,975.

Miss Ruth Kocal resigned as an English teacher. She will be married. Mrs. Mary Deringer, commercial and English instructor, and Mrs. Isabel Hart, elementary teacher, are retiring. Mrs. Portia Burge, elementary instructor, resigned, since her family is moving from the city. Mrs. Ruby Shaff submitted her resignation as an elementary teacher, offering no explanation.

The board approved a list of 132 graduating Seniors.

Each board member received a letter from a Hillcrest family asking that the board reconsider the position of Lester Bickel as principal at Fairview School. At the last meeting, Bickel was rehired as a teacher but not as a principal.

The board agreed to send a letter in reply stating it has reconsidered the matter and will stand on the decision made at the April session.

EARL MUNDY, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, reported he is inspecting the buildings to plan for the summer work program.

Myers said a typing course may be offered at summer school if an instructor can be obtained.

He said he has sent letters to several colleges and universities for the recruitment of teachers. Elementary, commercial special education, guidance and English instructors are needed as well as assistant football coaches.

The driver training class was launched last week, with 74 students registered. The car is being provided by Grafton Motors of Wellsville. A study is continuing of the curriculum and recommendations will be made at the next meeting.

Myers reported on attending a meeting to discuss the federal elementary and secondary education act. Columbiana County is slated to receive almost a half million dollars in aid if the appropriations are cleared, he said. Wellsville's share has not been determined.

THE BOARD members received an invitation from the Wellsville Memorial Council to participate in the annual Memorial Day parade May 31.

Myers said a representative from the Ohio Department of Education had inspected the slow learner classes and reported the age requirements are not being met and recommended programs in the junior and senior high schools.

A letter of commendation will be sent to the MacDonald Parent-Teacher Association for its work in showing the film "Child Molester" to a total of 423 persons.

A discussion was held on the erection of playground equipment at MacDonald.

Raymond S. Rolley, clerk, reported on the appraisal made of the buildings for insurance purposes. The total value, excluding basements, is $2,266,588, up $57,823 from last year.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson was granted use of the visual education room at Daw Junior High School for a piano recital for her students. She will pay the custodial fee.

Russell Dysert, president, suggested a program be set up to inform residents of the facts relative to the proposed building program. Myers suggested waiting until the project has been approved by the state.

In answer to a question on the bond issue required, it was pointed out the millage will be approximately 5.98 at the beginning and drop as the bonds are retired.

The board is considering an extensive program covering all schools in the district.

Dr. Janis Lauva, vice president, suggested a "full speed ahead" program when the project is approved.

William Ferrall, board member, was absent at last night's meeting.

Trustees Call Off Meeting In Face Of Protest March

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Public school trustees canceled a meeting Monday night as more than 1,000 protesting Negroes marched toward the school administration building. Pupils boycotted classes at five Negro high schools earlier in the day.

Leaders said the one - day demonstration was intended to show that Houston Negroes are dissatisfied at grade-a-year desegregation of city schools. Integration by court order now covers the first five grades.

Mayor Louie Welch told school board president Bob Eckels the meeting should be called off after the protest march began. Eckels said he was told no more than 150 were taking part and they drove in the mayor's car to take a look.

What they saw convinced Eckels the meeting should be called off, Welch said.

Of 10,819 Negroes enrolled in the city's five high schools, 9,169 were absent Monday. Hundreds of junior high pupils also stayed away.

The marchers stopped at a locked parking lot gate beneath which barbed wire had been strung. Estimates on the size of the crowd ranged from 1,000 to 3,000.

Marchers sang songs, shouted slogans and waved placards for about an hour and a half before they dispersed.

Police arrested a white man accused of trying to run over two Negro girls with a car and then cursing them. The girls declined to press charges and he was released.

Eckels called the boycott and subsequent march "a black eye for the city of Houston." He said there will be no acceleration of the court-ordered grade-a-year integration "at this time."

Woman Pays Fine In Crash

A 23 - year - old Gardendale woman cited in a traffic mishap April 11 on County Rd. 435 was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of driving left of center.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff imposed the penalty on Gwen Springer of Gaddes St., who had pleaded guilty to the court last Wednesday. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol, which alleged her auto crossed a center line on a curve and struck an oncoming auto.

The woman was sentenced this morning after Patrolman R. L. Reed, the investigating officer, explained the circumstances to the court.

Meanwhile, the judge issued a bench warrant for Thelma Dolores Samples, 516 Washington St., who failed to appear on a charge of passing without the assured clear distance.

She was cited by the patrol early Saturday after she allegedly passed a tractor - trailer on the East Liverpool - Wellsville highway and collided with an oncoming vehicle. The patrol alleged she passed at a site where traffic had been cut to one lane because of a landslide.

The judge forfeited the woman's appearance bond and then issued the capias. He said he wants to hear "the extent of the damage and learn if anyone was injured."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I wonder (being a widower now) how much unnecessary time, for years and years, my poor wife spent mopping our bathroom and kitchen floors and washing that mop out.

For the last two years, I have been doing this and have learned that if I take my dust mop, yes, even after using my vacuum cleaner) and dust my asphalt tile floors before beginning to wash them, that this not only keeps my wet mop clean, but I do not have to rinse them!

Even sweeping with a broom will not pick up as much of the lint and little tiny particles as the dust mop will.

I find that everything in this house has dust on it. I suggest that housewives never put water or suds on any floor without using the dust mop first.

HERE'S ANOTHER little trick I learned:

Instead of using a broom to sweep the kitchen floor, I also use that dust mop. It is amazing how much I can sweep out that door . . . far more than when I use a broom.

If you doubt this, test it. Every housewife should. Sweep your kitchen floor with a broom, then go back over it with a dust mop. Then shake that dust mop out! You'll see.

WIDOWER.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a year-old baby who loves to take a bath?

Put an oval-shaped, plastic laundry basket in the tub and place the baby in the basket. He or she will have something to grasp, and it will be much safer for him to play in the water while you're watching.

I'm a baby-sitting grandmother. I know.

ANITA BOTT.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that an inverted muffin tin, covered with a towel or paper toweling to absorb moisture, is the ideal drainer for glasses.

Almost all the glasses will fit securely and will dry (rims and all) in such a short time.

NEW BRIDE.

-:-

HOWDY HO: Don't you just hate to buy a bag of marshmallows and, once they are opened, they get hard?

Here's how to keep them soft . . . Once the bag is opened, just put them in a tightly-capped jar and that is all there is to it. I have had some stay soft this way for six months.

Another cute trick is to use as many as you want, then twist the top of the plastic bag (getting all the air out) and put a rubber band around it. Keep them in your deep freezer! They last a year this way.

The best thing about keeping them in your freezer is that when you get ready to cut them, they don't stick to your scissors.

Try it!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a very small bedroom with no light stands and no room for a chair next to my bed, so in order to keep small essentials such as handkerchief, nose inhaler, cough drops, etc., handy . . . I made a muslin sack about 10 inches deep and 7 inches wide and safety-pinned it to the under sheet next to my pillow.

This way I'm able to reach what I need during the night and nothing is lost.

I made several of these little sacks so that when I change sheets, I change bags.

JENNIE R.

-:-

Gals: This idea would also be wonderful for sick child's bed. The bag could be made larger to hold small toys, crayons, etc. And a surprise could be added occasionally to give that sick babe a little "lift."

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A useful hint for quick emergency repair of a torn hem is plain old cellophane tape.

Cellophane tape also takes out the guess work when hemming clothes (and some people do guess). Use small pieces of tape instead of pins, try on the garment, and then satisfied with the length, sew in the hem and remove the pieces of tape.

This eliminates getting stuck with pins, snagging the material, or leaving pin holes in it.

B. G.

P.S.: This little idea works on a good number of materials, but not all.

Dinner Opens 'Police Week'

The local observance of National Police Week opened with its first formal event Monday night — a smorgasbord dinner at the Elks Lodge sponsored by Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge 26 at which members of FOP Lodge 29 and other officials were guests. Forty attended.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall spoke briefly on plans for the observance. Paul Zehnder, news director of WOHI, discussed the role of district law enforcement officers. He cited the billions of dollars in equipment used by the Strategic Air Command in its protection of the U. S. against the comparatively limited resources of area law enforcement agencies.

About 75 officers in the immediate district are responsible for protection of an area with a population of 250,000, Zehnder said. He also discussed cooperation between law enforcement officers and the news media.

Judson W. Allison, president of the FOPA, presided. Other guests, in addition to the mayor, were: Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey; George E. Willshaw, Republican and city's nominees for mayor; State Highway Patrol officers and a delegation from the Wellsville department, including Chief John Hephner and Patrolman Charles Amato, FOP president.

The program will conclude Saturday with the annual observance of Police Officers' Memorial Day in a rite in front of City Hall. Flags on city property will be lowered to half staff that day under a proclamation issued by the mayor.

Curiosity Nearly—

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Curiosity nearly killed E. T. Beasley's cat. It also started a fire in Beasley's home. The curious feline got into Beasley's radio in his den and bit into a wire. The cat burned its mouth and started a small blaze which necessitated calling firemen.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You printed a letter from a teen-ager named Billy who complained that his mother drove him nuts with her back-seat driving. I'm a mother of three teen-agers and would like to register the identical complaint.

Since my children learned to drive I haven't had a minute's peace behind the wheel. The other day my son and two of his friends were walking home from school. I saw them and asked if they wanted a ride. The minute they got in the car my son started to criticize my driving.

I ignored the first few digs, and then he said, "Ma, I think you need new glasses. You almost clipped that car when you passed it."

I answered, "I was driving when you were in diapers."

He didn't say anything then but when we got home he yelled for half an hour about how I had insulted him in front of his friends. He didn't feel that he had insulted me with his crack about my needing new glasses.

I hope you will give parents a break and print this letter, Ann. Several of my friends are having the same problem with their high schoolers. Thank you. — ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Dear On: It's strange that most children think their parents know everything, until they get to be about 12 years old. Then, suddenly their parents don't know anything. This phase usually lasts six or seven years.

At about age 20, children begin to have a somewhat improved opinion of their parents. By the time children marry and have youngsters of their own they strongly suspect that perhaps their parents aren't so dumb after all.

Ann's Sorry Now

Dear Readers? Well, I've done it again. This time, I not only alienated a whole industry but I've tromped on the toes of my ever-lovin' brother - in - law, a Nebraska jeweler, out of Omaha. He writes:

Dear Ann Landers: What do you mean telling that 22-year-old boy, whose girl friend wasn't sure she wanted to be engaged, to "take the ring back to the jeweler for a refund."

A 22-year-old boy is old enough to know what he is doing. A reliable jeweler will stand back of his merchandise and give the customer a refund or exchange if the goods are faulty, but no jeweler in his right mind would sell an engagement ring with the provision that the buyer can bring it back for a refund if the romance doesn't go well.

Would you advise a woman to return a gown to a shop if she became ill and was unable to attend the party? Could you get a real estate company to refund option money if the buyer changed his mind?

I'm protesting against your advice in behalf of approximately 25,000 fellow retail jewelers in this country who are probably as unhappy with your advice as I am. I hope you will print this letter and not discriminate against me on the grounds that I'm a relative, because I'm a daily reader as well — YOUR BROTHER - IN-LAW DAVE B.

Dear Dave: Twenty - five thousand apologies to you and all the other retail jewelers. I goofed.

I should have told the young man that (1) He should not have "surprised" a high school girl with an engagement ring and (2) he should hang on to the ring until he meets a girl who is at least as eager to accept the ring as he is to give it to her. Twenty lashes with a gold watch chain for Granny Annie.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I wonder (being a widower now) how much unnecessary time, for years and years, my poor wife spent mopping our bathroom and kitchen floors and washing that mop out.

For the last two years, I have been doing this and have learned that if I take my dust mop, yes, even after using my vacuum cleaner) and dust my asphalt tile floors before beginning to wash them, that this not only keeps my wet mop clean, but I do not have to rinse them!

Even sweeping with a broom will not pick up as much of the lint and little tiny particles as the dust mop will.

I find that everything in this house has dust on it. I suggest that housewives never put water or suds on any floor without using the dust mop first.

HERE'S ANOTHER little trick I learned:

Instead of using a broom to sweep the kitchen floor, I also use that dust mop. It is amazing how much I can sweep out that door . . . far more than when I use a broom.

If you doubt this, test it. Every housewife should. Sweep your kitchen floor with a broom, then go back over it with a dust mop. Then shake that dust mop out! You'll see.

WIDOWER.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a year-old baby who loves to take a bath?

Put an oval-shaped, plastic laundry basket in the tub and place the baby in the basket. He or she will have something to grasp, and it will be much safer for him to play in the water while you're watching.

I'm a baby-sitting grandmother. I know.

ANITA BOTT.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that an inverted muffin tin, covered with a towel or paper toweling to absorb moisture, is the ideal drainer for glasses.

Almost all the glasses will fit securely and will dry (rims and all) in such a short time.

NEW BRIDE.

HOWDY HO: Don't you just hate to buy a bag of marshmallows and, once they are opened, they get hard?

Here's how to keep them soft . . . Once the bag is opened, just put them in a tightly-capped jar and that is all there is to it. I have had some stay soft this way for six months.

Another cute trick is to use as many as you want, then twist the top of the plastic bag (getting all the air out) and put a rubber band around it. Keep them in your deep freezer! They last a year this way.

The best thing about keeping them in your freezer is that when you get ready to cut them, they don't stick to your scissors.

Try it!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a very small bedroom with no light stands and no room for a chair next to my bed, so in order to keep small essentials such as handkerchief, nose inhaler, cough drops, etc., handy . . . I made a muslin sack about 10 inches deep and 7 inches wide and safety-pinned it to the under sheet next to my pillow.

This way I'm able to reach what I need during the night and nothing is lost.

I made several of these little sacks so that when I change sheets, I change bags.

JENNIE R.

-:-

Gals: This idea would also be wonderful for sick child's bed. The bag could be made larger to hold small toys, crayons, etc. And a surprise could be added occasionally to give that sick babe a little "lift."

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A useful hint for quick emergency repair of a torn hem is plain old cellophane tape.

Cellophane tape also takes out the guess work when hemming clothes (and some people do guess). Use small pieces of tape instead of pins, try on the garment, and then satisfied with the length, sew in the hem and remove the pieces of tape.

This eliminates getting stuck with pins, snagging the material, or leaving pin holes in it.

B. G.

P.S.: This little idea works on a good number of materials, but not all.

Dinner Opens 'Police Week'

The local observance of National Police Week opened with its first formal event Monday night — a smorgasbord dinner at the Elks Lodge sponsored by Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge 26 at which members of FOP Lodge 29 and other officials were guests. Forty attended.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall spoke briefly on plans for the observance. Paul Zehnder, news director of WOHI, discussed the role of district law enforcement officers. He cited the billions of dollars in equipment used by the Strategic Air Command in its protection of the U. S. against the comparatively limited resources of area law enforcement agencies.

About 75 officers in the immediate district are responsible for protection of an area with a population of 250,000, Zehnder said. He also discussed cooperation between law enforcement officers and the news media.

Judson W. Allison, president of the FOPA, presided. Other guests, in addition to the mayor, were: Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey; George E. Willshaw, Republican and city's nominees for mayor; State Highway Patrol officers and a delegation from the Wellsville department, including Chief John Hephner and Patrolman Charles Amato, FOP president.

The program will conclude Saturday with the annual observance of Police Officers' Memorial Day in a rite in front of City Hall. Flags on city property will be lowered to half staff that day under a proclamation issued by the mayor.

Curiosity Nearly—

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Curiosity nearly killed E. T. Beasley's cat. It also started a fire in Beasley's home. The curious feline got into Beasley's radio in his den and bit into a wire. The cat burned its mouth and started a small blaze which necessitated calling firemen.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You printed a letter from a teen-ager named Billy who complained that his mother drove him nuts with her back-seat driving. I'm a mother of three teen-agers and would like to register the identical complaint.

Since my children learned to drive I haven't had a minute's peace behind the wheel. The other day my son and two of his friends were walking home from school. I saw them and asked if they wanted a ride. The minute they got in the car my son started to criticize my driving.

I ignored the first few digs, and then he said, "Ma, I think you need new glasses. You almost clipped that car when you passed it."

I answered, "I was driving when you were in diapers."

He didn't say anything then but when we got home he yelled for half an hour about how I had insulted him in front of his friends. He didn't feel that he had insulted me with his crack about my needing new glasses.

I hope you will give parents a break and print this letter, Ann. Several of my friends are having the same problem with their high schoolers. Thank you. — ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Dear On: It's strange that most children think their parents know everything, until they get to be about 12 years old. Then, suddenly their parents don't know anything. This phase usually lasts six or seven years.

At about age 20, children begin to have a somewhat improved opinion of their parents. By the time children marry and have youngsters of their own they strongly suspect that perhaps their parents aren't so dumb after all.

Ann's Sorry Now

Dear Readers? Well, I've done it again. This time, I not only alienated a whole industry but I've tromped on the toes of my ever-lovin' brother - in - law, a Nebraska jeweler, out of Omaha. He writes:

Dear Ann Landers: What do you mean telling that 22-year-old boy, whose girl friend wasn't sure she wanted to be engaged, to "take the ring back to the jeweler for a refund."

A 22-year-old boy is old enough to know what he is doing. A reliable jeweler will stand back of his merchandise and give the customer a refund or exchange if the goods are faulty, but no jeweler in his right mind would sell an engagement ring with the provision that the buyer can bring it back for a refund if the romance doesn't go well.

Would you advise a woman to return a gown to a shop if she became ill and was unable to attend the party? Could you get a real estate company to refund option money if the buyer changed his mind?

I'm protesting against your advice in behalf of approximately 25,000 fellow retail jewelers in this country who are probably as unhappy with your advice as I am. I hope you will print this letter and not discriminate against me on the grounds that I'm a relative, because I'm a daily reader as well — YOUR BROTHER - IN-LAW DAVE B.

Dear Dave: Twenty - five thousand apologies to you and all the other retail jewelers. I goofed.

I should have told the young man that (1) He should not have "surprised" a high school girl with an engagement ring and (2) he should hang on to the ring until he meets a girl who is at least as eager to accept the ring as he is to give it to her. Twenty lashes with a gold watch chain for Granny Annie.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$960,128 Budget Gets Approval Of Midland's Board

The Midland Board of Education Monday night adopted a tentative operating budget of $960,128 for the 1965-66 school term and made several personnel appointments.

The budget represents an increase of $158,214 over 1964-65 and is based on a real estate tax of 38 mills, up one mill from last year.

The actual increase, however, according to Dr. Edgar Richards, superintendent of schools, is only about $49,000, as the tentative figures include a debt reduction of $110,635.

MAJOR ITEMS listed in the budget are: Debt services (which include the $110,635), $171,828; instruction, $506,604; administration, $39,639; operation of plant, $71,059; maintenance of plant, $37,446 and fixed charges, $36,014.

Personnel appointments made by the board include that of Dr. Constantine Mourat as school physician and medical examiner at a salary of $4,000 per year; Dr. Zanvel Sigal as dental examiner at a salary of $10 per hour "for time spent;" Mrs. Eldamae Castelli as school district treasurer at a salary of $60 per month, and Miss Bernice Coffin as board secretary, for a four-year term, at a salary of $1,240 per year.

THE BOARD opened 18 bids for various janitorial supplies and turned them over to the property committee for tabulation. Contracts are to be awarded at the meeting June 14.

The resignation of Miss Despena Gagianas was accepted and the secretary, Miss Coffin, was instructed to write a letter of commendation on behalf of the board "for her fine work in the school system."

Miss Gagianas has served as music instructor in the elementary system for 12 years. Her resignation will be effective at the end of the present school term. She plans to move to California.

The board also granted full salary payment on June 15 to five teachers in the system who plan to travel during the summer.

The Midland Office of the Beaver Trust Co. and the First National Bank of Midland were authorized as school fund depositories. Principal and interest on bonds due June 1 in the amount of $23,249 were ordered paid from the sinking account fund.

A REQUEST of the Midland 4th of July committee for the high school band to perform in the annual parade was approved, as was a request of Midland American Legion Post 481 for the band to participate in the Memorial Day Parade in Midland and the Veterans Day Parade in Ambridge, Nov. 11, provided transportation is furnished for the Ambridge trip.

A letter was received from the Midland Education Association thanking the board for the recent board-faculty banquet April 28.

The Rev. W. Stanton River, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was approved as the baccalaureate speaker for the June 6 exercises and the list of June 8 graduates was approved, providing they meet all final requirements.

Interim orders placed by Supt. Richards for April amounted to $53.76 and were ordered paid. The Carnegie Library Board of Trustees was authorized to purchase books in the amount of $423.58.

General bills in the amount of $7,050.27 were ordered paid and cash receipts in the amount of $475.40 were received and placed in the proper accounts.

Edward Cilli, president, presided. The next meeting will be June 14.

Satellite Corp. Seeks Vote Of Endorsement

WASHINGTON (AP) — With its first space bird aloft and ready to earn some money, the Communications Satellite Corp. confidently seeks a vote of endorsement today from its shareholders.

Nearly 1,700 stockholders were expected at Comsat's second annual meeting. They were expected to re-elect 12 incumbent directors nominated by the management.

However, two small stockholders are seeking seats on the board. As further insurance against dullness, Comsat expects strong attendance by management baiters who turned last year's meeting into a noisy, disorderly nine-hour session.

Chairman Leo D. Welch was to report on the launching and successful operation of Early Bird. The first experimental commercial satellite relayed live television broadcasts from 10 countries back and forth across the Atlantic last week.

Comsat's next steps are aimed at earning money — a matter of high importance to its 190,000 stockholders, although the stock prospectus warned them it would be years before they can hope for any dividends.

The Federal Communications Commission is expected to decide Wednesday whether Comsat or others will own the U.S. ground stations designed to link American telephones and television sets to the system of globe-circling satellites to be controlled by Comsat.

Within a few days Comsat will file with the FCC the schedule of rates it proposes to charge for commercial telephone, television, or message use of Early Bird. The rates must be kept on file for 30 days before they take effect; thereafter, commercial service can begin. The FCC is expected to approve the charges unless there are complaints, but some complaints may be made.

Challenges to Comsat's slate of directors were scheduled to come from William J. Bivens of Annandale, Va., a lawyer for the Army who owns 10 Comsat shares, and Boyd King, president of Radio Communications Inc., of Prince Frederick, Md.

The commissioners also approved a $300 slag grant to West Township trustees and authorized travel allowance for Kenneth Bell, auditor, to attend the northeast Ohio auditors' meeting in Mansfield Wednesday.

The commissioners' next regular meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Probation Action Set By Change Of Pleas

LISBON — Probation investigations have been ordered by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for two Steubenville residents who changed their pleas to guilty on two counts of burglary.

They are Chalmer Grant, 18, and George Brown, 21, who were indicted by the April grand jury on seven counts of burglary of gas stations in Wellsville and East Liverpool.

They had pleaded not guilty to the seven counts at arraignment but Monday pleaded guilty to two counts and requested the probation investigation.

$960,128 Budget Gets Approval Of Midland's Board

The Midland Board of Education Monday night adopted a tentative operating budget of $960,128 for the 1965-66 school term and made several personnel appointments.

The budget represents an increase of $158,214 over 1964-65 and is based on a real estate tax of 38 mills, up one mill from last year.

The actual increase, however, according to Dr. Edgar Richards, superintendent of schools, is only about $49,000, as the tentative figures include a debt reduction of $110,635.

MAJOR ITEMS listed in the budget are: Debt services (which include the $110,635), $171,828; instruction, $506,604; administration, $39,639; operation of plant, $71,059; maintenance of plant, $37,446 and fixed charges, $36,014.

Personnel appointments made by the board include that of Dr. Constantine Mourat as school physician and medical examiner at a salary of $4,000 per year; Dr. Zanvel Sigal as dental examiner at a salary of $10 per hour "for time spent;" Mrs. Eldamae Castelli as school district treasurer at a salary of $60 per month, and Miss Bernice Coffin as board secretary, for a four-year term, at a salary of $1,240 per year.

THE BOARD opened 18 bids for various janitorial supplies and turned them over to the property committee for tabulation. Contracts are to be awarded at the meeting June 14.

The resignation of Miss Despena Gagianas was accepted and the secretary, Miss Coffin, was instructed to write a letter of commendation on behalf of the board "for her fine work in the school system."

Miss Gagianas has served as music instructor in the elementary system for 12 years. Her resignation will be effective at the end of the present school term. She plans to move to California.

The board also granted full salary payment on June 15 to five teachers in the system who plan to travel during the summer.

The Midland Office of the Beaver Trust Co. and the First National Bank of Midland were authorized as school fund depositories. Principal and interest on bonds due June 1 in the amount of $23,249 were ordered paid from the sinking account fund.

A REQUEST of the Midland 4th of July committee for the high school band to perform in the annual parade was approved, as was a request of Midland American Legion Post 481 for the band to participate in the Memorial Day Parade in Midland and the Veterans Day Parade in Ambridge, Nov. 11, provided transportation is furnished for the Ambridge trip.

A letter was received from the Midland Education Association thanking the board for the recent board-faculty banquet April 28.

The Rev. W. Stanton River, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was approved as the baccalaureate speaker for the June 6 exercises and the list of June 8 graduates was approved, providing they meet all final requirements.

Interim orders placed by Supt. Richards for April amounted to $53.76 and were ordered paid. The Carnegie Library Board of Trustees was authorized to purchase books in the amount of $423.58.

General bills in the amount of $7,050.27 were ordered paid and cash receipts in the amount of $475.40 were received and placed in the proper accounts.

Satellite Corp. Seeks Vote Of Endorsement

WASHINGTON (AP) — With its first space bird aloft and ready to earn some money, the Communications Satellite Corp. confidently seeks a vote of endorsement today from its shareholders.

Nearly 1,700 stockholders were expected at Comsat's second annual meeting. They were expected to re-elect 12 incumbent directors nominated by the management.

However, two small stockholders are seeking seats on the board. As further insurance against dullness, Comsat expects strong attendance by management baiters who turned last year's meeting into a noisy, disorderly nine-hour session.

Chairman Leo D. Welch was to report on the launching and successful operation of Early Bird. The first experimental commercial satellite relayed live television broadcasts from 10 countries back and forth across the Atlantic last week.

Comsat's next steps are aimed at earning money — a matter of high importance to its 190,000 stockholders, although the stock prospectus warned them it would be years before they can hope for any dividends.

The Federal Communications Commission is expected to decide Wednesday whether Comsat or others will own the U.S. ground stations designed to link American telephones and television sets to the system of globe-circling satellites to be controlled by Comsat.

Within a few days Comsat will file with the FCC the schedule of rates it proposes to charge for commercial telephone, television, or message use of Early Bird. The rates must be kept on file for 30 days before they take effect; thereafter, commercial service can begin. The FCC is expected to approve the charges unless there are complaints, but some complaints may be made.

Challenges to Comsat's slate of directors were scheduled to come from William J. Bivens of Annandale, Va., a lawyer for the Army who owns 10 Comsat shares, and Boyd King, president of Radio Communications Inc., of Prince Frederick, Md.

Commissioners Buy Supplies For Auditor's Office

The commissioners also approved a $300 slag grant to West Township trustees and authorized travel allowance for Kenneth Bell, auditor, to attend the northeast Ohio auditors' meeting in Mansfield Wednesday.

The commissioners' next regular meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

New Officers Named By Funeral Directors

New officers have been elected by District 22 of the Ohio Funeral Directors Association, which includes Jefferson, Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison Counties.

Other officers are Ralph Blackburn of Hopedale, vice president and Donald Clarke of Toronto, secretary - treasurer.

The association meets quarterly.

Probation Action Set By Change Of Pleas

LISBON — Probation investigations have been ordered by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for two Steubenville residents who changed their pleas to guilty on two counts of burglary.

They are Chalmer Grant, 18, and George Brown, 21, who were indicted by the April grand jury on seven counts of burglary of gas stations in Wellsville and East Liverpool.

They had pleaded not guilty to the seven counts at arraignment but Monday pleaded guilty to two counts and requested the probation investigation.

Briggs' Timely Hits Save Job

Homer, Double Pace Phils

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Johnny Briggs wakes up Wednesday, he'll still be a Philadelphia Phillie.

That's not his idea, but with his luck he can't avoid it.

Briggs, a 21-year-old outfielder, had hoped to turn into an Arkansas Traveler at tonight's bewitching hour of midnight. Then he was sent to bat as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning of Monday night's game with St. Louis.

Twenty minutes later, the Phillies had a 4-2 victory and Briggs owned a spot on the team's 25-man roster.

The young lefty, in his second season with the Phillies, doubled and scored the tying run in the ninth, then slammed a two-run homer in the 10th.

Briggs' name has been tossed around as one of three players who must be pared from the roster by midnight tonight, the majors' cutdown deadline.

And while Manager Gene Mauch said after the St. Louis game he never has had any intention of delivering Briggs to the minors, Briggs actually would welcome a trip to Little Rock.

"I want to play, that's the only way I can learn," he said after his power performance. "I'd like to stay here, but I'd like to play, too. And you can't do both. We have too many good outfielders. So I'd be willing to go down if they want me to."

Until Monday night, Briggs had played in nine of the team's 22 games, posting only three hits in 13 times at bat with no runs batted in. Last season, protected on the roster as a first-year player, he batted only 66 times in 61 games for a .258 average.

His two hits against the Cardinals rocketed his average 102 points to .333. The homer equaled his entire 1964 output.

In the only other National League game, Los Angeles edged Houston 3-2 in 10 innings. Rain halted Cincinnati and Pittsburgh in the third inning.

The Cardinals moved in front 2-1 in the eighth inning as Mike Shannon beat Dick Stuart's throw to the plate on Dick Groat's slow grounder.

But Briggs batted for Jack Baldschun and doubled off the scoreboard. Two outs later, he raced home on Johnny Callison's single.

Bob Purkey retired the first two Phillies in the 10th before Ruben Amaro singled. Briggs, who had remained in the game as the left fielder, came up next and drove the ball over the right-field wall.

The Dodgers won their game with two out in the 10th, too. Lou Johnson, replacing the injured Tommy Davis, beat out an infield single with two out, then stole second and continued to third when catcher John Bateman fired the ball wildly.

After Hal Woodeshick walked Jim Lefebvre, Ron Fairly rapped a single to center, scoring Johnson.

ED PILLINGS, West Point trainer, adjusts the sling on the arm of Mets manager Casey Stengel Monday after Casey had broken a bone in his right wrist shortly before the start of an exhibition game at West Point. Twins Edge Sox; Tigers Nip Birds

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox won't complain if Carl Yastrzemski, who wants to change directions, has an occasional change of heart. Not when it winds up in the right-field seats at Fenway Park.

Yastrzemski, who believes a few more hits to left field will make him a challenger for the American League batting championship he won two years ago, hit two home runs and a sacrifice fly Monday night, giving the Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the staggering New York Yankees.

The 25-year-old Boston star knocked in a first-inning run with a liner to left-fielder Mickey Mantle and homered into the left-field screen in the fourth before driving deep into the right-field stands in the eighth to snap a 2-2 deadlock and help rookie right-hander Jim Lonborg post his first major league victory.

Lonborg needed a ninth-inning assist from relief ace Dick Radatz, who got the last out after the sore-legged Mantle, making his first start in eight days, doubled off the left-field wall for his third hit.

Mickey drove in both New York runs with his fifth homer and a single but the Yankees plummeted to ninth place despite pitcher Bill Stafford's first complete game since 1962.

The Minnesota Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and the Detroit Tigers nipped Baltimore 5-4 in the only other American League games scheduled.

Yastrzemski, who won the batting title with a .321 average in 1963, slipped to .289 last season.

"I should hit that outside pitch to left field and I intend to do that this year," the left-handed - hitting outfielder said before the season started. "I don't recall hitting a home run into the left-field nets at Boston last season. The year before I hit six or seven up there. That's the way I'm going to hit from now on."

Yaz was true to his word Monday night until the eighth inning, when his second homer lifted the Red Sox past the Yankees in the standings and raised his batting average to .269.

Minnesota rookie Mel Nelson relieved Jim Kaat with one run in, two on and none out in the ninth and retired three straight hitters to save the Twins' victory over the White Sox.

Rich Rollins drove in two runs for the Twins with a double and ground out and scored the deciding run in the sixth on Jerry Zimmerman's single. Dave Nicholson homered for the White Sox.

Al Kaline hit his third home run in three days, a three-run shot in the first inning that helped the Tigers gain a split of their four-game series at Baltimore. The Orioles wiped out the early deficit, however, and led 4-3 until Dick McAuliffe singled across a fifth-inning run and the Tigers added an unearned run in the sixth on Don Demeter's single, Bill Freehan's double and an error by Jackie Brandt.

THE HERO IN Boston Monday night was Carl Yastrzamski who is being congratulated at home plate by Tony Comigliaro (left) after hitting his first of two home runs against the Yankees. Boston went on to nip New York, 3-2, at Fenway Park. (UPI Telephoto)

Putt, Kinsey Pace Potters

Harold Putt's 37 and Ron Kinsey's 39 paced East Liverpool's golf team to a 14½-½ victory over Midland Monday at the Country Club.

Bob Kelly and Jack Hargreaves each turned in 42's for the Potters while Martin Ciancone was low for Midland.

The victory pushes the Potters record to 10-2 for the season.

Falls At West Point

Casey Has Broken Wrist

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable Casey Stengel will be flashing signals, leading cheers and signing an autograph or two from his usual stand in the New York Mets' dugout tonight despite a broken right wrist.

"He won't miss any managing," club President George Weis said Monday after Stengel cracked a small bone in his wrist in a fall at West Point, N.Y., where the Mets beat Army's baseball team 8-0 in an exhibition game.

"It was my own fault," said Casey. "I have 5, 10 15 different pairs of baseball shoes. I shouldn't have been wearing the ones with the spikes." Stengel fell when his spikes caught on the sidewalk in front of the academy gymnasium as the Mets boarded a bus for the trip to the baseball field.

He said he usually wears flat-soled shoes before a game, changing to spikes when he goes on to the field. Monday however, he didn't notice the flat shoes packed in his bag.

"I wanted to go to the game until they told me maybe I better have the doctors look at the arm," the intrepid skipper said. Army doctors X-rayed the injury and placed Casey's arm in a plaster cast. He'll wear it from six to eight weeks.

Lucky Debonair To Lead Field Of 10 At Pimlico

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — A fairly definite field of 10 for Saturday's $150,000-added Preakness showed today that Lucky Debonair still has to do some convincing that he's the class of the 3-year-old thoroughbred racing crop.

"I don't know what else he has to do," wondered trainer Frank Catrone. "But every time he wins, they seem to find some excuse why he might not have, or shouldn't.

"He's won six out of nine races and was second the other three times. What more can you ask?"

After Lucky Debonair won the Kentucky Derby May 1, speculators dwelled on what might have happened if Dapper Dan had started moving a little sooner or the race had been just a little bit longer. He was last at three-quarters of a mile and only a neck behind Lucky at the end of the 1¼ miles.

It would have made no difference, according to the confident Catrone.

"He wasn't going to pass my horse," declared the trainer. "They could have run around the track again."

When Lucky Debonair first popped into prominence by beating Jacinto in the Santa Anita Derby, there also were skeptics. They cited an extremely fast workout before the race by Jacinto, taking too much out of him.

Jacinto hasn't raced since his licking by Lucky Debonair. He came to Pimlico last Saturday for the Preakness Prep but aggravated an ankle injury and is back on the sidelines.

Owners of six other starters in the Kentucky Derby were undaunted by Lucky Debonair's triumph and are pacing around waiting for the Preakness.

In addition to Dapper Dan, the horses are Tom Rolfe, Native Charger, Hail to All, Swift Ruler and Flag Raiser.

Trainer Hirsch Jacobs will not only give Flag Raiser another shot in the middle event of the Triple Crown but will send out Turn To Reason.

Both were winners last Saturday, Flag Raiser in the Withers Mile in New York and Turn To Reason in a division of the Illinois Derby.

Slip On Grass Costs No-Hitter In International

By The Associated Press

A slip on some wet grass by third baseman John Ryan cost veteran Syracuse southpaw Ron Nischwitz an International League no-hitter.

As a result of the slip, Jim Napier was given credit for a scratch single in the ninth inning Monday night and Nischwitz had to settle for a one-hitter in beating Jacksonville 6-0.

In other games, Toledo edged Buffalo 5-4 in 10 innings and league-leading Atlanta walloped Rochester 16-4.

Buffalo squandered a 4-0 lead in its game with Toledo but still had a chance to win the game in the eighth inning. Then Choo Choo Coleman failed to step on home plate as he came home on a single by pinch hitter Larry Burright and the winning run didn't count.

Briggs, a 21-year-old outfielder, had hoped to turn into an Arkansas Traveler at tonight's bewitching hour of midnight. Then he was sent to bat as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning of Monday night's game with St. Louis.

Twenty minutes later, the Phillies had a 4-2 victory and Briggs owned a spot on the team's 25-man roster.

The young lefty, in his second season with the Phillies, doubled and scored the tying run in the ninth, then slammed a two-run homer in the 10th.

Briggs' name has been tossed around as one of three players who must be pared from the roster by midnight tonight, the majors' cutdown deadline.

And while Manager Gene Mauch said after the St. Louis game he never has had any intention of delivering Briggs to the minors, Briggs actually would welcome a trip to Little Rock.

"I want to play, that's the only way I can learn," he said after his power performance. "I'd like to stay here, but I'd like to play, too. And you can't do both. We have too many good outfielders. So I'd be willing to go down if they want me to."

Until Monday night, Briggs had played in nine of the team's 22 games, posting only three hits in 13 times at bat with no runs batted in. Last season, protected on the roster as a first-year player, he batted only 66 times in 61 games for a .258 average.

His two hits against the Cardinals rocketed his average 102 points to .333. The homer equaled his entire 1964 output.

In the only other National League game, Los Angeles edged Houston 3-2 in 10 innings. Rain halted Cincinnati and Pittsburgh in the third inning.

The Cardinals moved in front 2-1 in the eighth inning as Mike Shannon beat Dick Stuart's throw to the plate on Dick Groat's slow grounder.

But Briggs batted for Jack Baldschun and doubled off the scoreboard. Two outs later, he raced home on Johnny Callison's single.

Bob Purkey retired the first two Phillies in the 10th before Ruben Amaro singled. Briggs, who had remained in the game as the left fielder, came up next and drove the ball over the right-field wall.

The Dodgers won their game with two out in the 10th, too. Lou Johnson, replacing the injured Tommy Davis, beat out an infield single with two out, then stole second and continued to third when catcher John Bateman fired the ball wildly.

After Hal Woodeshick walked Jim Lefebvre, Ron Fairly rapped a single to center, scoring Johnson.

Yastrzemski's Homers Sink Yanks

The Review Sports

TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 14

THE HERO IN Boston Monday night was Carl Yastrzamski who is being congratulated at home plate by Tony Comigliaro (left) after hitting his first of two home runs against the Yankees. Boston went on to nip New York, 3-2, at Fenway Park. (UPI Telephoto)

Twins Edge Sox; Tigers Nip Birds

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox won't complain if Carl Yastrzemski, who wants to change directions, has an occasional change of heart. Not when it winds up in the right-field seats at Fenway Park.

Yastrzemski, who believes a few more hits to left field will make him a challenger for the American League batting championship he won two years ago, hit two home runs and a sacrifice fly Monday night, giving the Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the staggering New York Yankees.

The 25-year-old Boston star knocked in a first-inning run with a liner to left-fielder Mickey Mantle and homered into the left-field screen in the fourth before driving deep into the right-field stands in the eighth to snap a 2-2 deadlock and help rookie right-hander Jim Lonborg post his first major league victory.

Lonborg needed a ninth-inning assist from relief ace Dick Radatz, who got the last out after the sore-legged Mantle, making his first start in eight days, doubled off the left-field wall for his third hit.

Mickey drove in both New York runs with his fifth homer and a single but the Yankees plummeted to ninth place despite pitcher Bill Stafford's first complete game since 1962.

The Minnesota Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and the Detroit Tigers nipped Baltimore 5-4 in the only other American League games scheduled.

Yastrzemski, who won the batting title with a .321 average in 1963, slipped to .289 last season.

"I should hit that outside pitch to left field and I intend to do that this year," the left-handed - hitting outfielder said before the season started. "I don't recall hitting a home run into the left-field nets at Boston last season. The year before I hit six or seven up there. That's the way I'm going to hit from now on."

Yaz was true to his word Monday night until the eighth inning, when his second homer lifted the Red Sox past the Yankees in the standings and raised his batting average to .269.

Minnesota rookie Mel Nelson relieved Jim Kaat with one run in, two on and none out in the ninth and retired three straight hitters to save the Twins' victory over the White Sox.

Rich Rollins drove in two runs for the Twins with a double and ground out and scored the deciding run in the sixth on Jerry Zimmerman's single. Dave Nicholson homered for the White Sox.

Al Kaline hit his third home run in three days, a three-run shot in the first inning that helped the Tigers gain a split of their four-game series at Baltimore. The Orioles wiped out the early deficit, however, and led 4-3 until Dick McAuliffe singled across a fifth-inning run and the Tigers added an unearned run in the sixth on Don Demeter's single, Bill Freehan's double and an error by Jackie Brandt.

Putt, Kinsey Pace Potters

Harold Putt's 37 and Ron Kinsey's 39 paced East Liverpool's golf team to a 14½-½ victory over Midland Monday at the Country Club.

Bob Kelly and Jack Hargreaves each turned in 42's for the Potters while Martin Ciancone was low for Midland.

The victory pushes the Potters record to 10-2 for the season.

East Liverpool meets Youngstown South Wednesday to warm up for the Sectional tournament Friday at St. Clairsville.

Falls At West Point

Casey Has Broken Wrist

NEW YORK (AP) — Indomitable Casey Stengel will be flashing signals, leading cheers and signing an autograph or two from his usual stand in the New York Mets' dugout tonight despite a broken right wrist.

"He won't miss any managing," club President George Weis said Monday after Stengel cracked a small bone in his wrist in a fall at West Point, N.Y., where the Mets beat Army's baseball team 8-0 in an exhibition game.

"It was my own fault," said Casey. "I have 5, 10 15 different pairs of baseball shoes. I shouldn't have been wearing the ones with the spikes." Stengel fell when his spikes caught on the sidewalk in front of the academy gymnasium as the Mets boarded a bus for the trip to the baseball field.

He said he usually wears flat-soled shoes before a game, changing to spikes when he goes on to the field. Monday however, he didn't notice the flat shoes packed in his bag.

"I wanted to go to the game until they told me maybe I better have the doctors look at the arm," the intrepid skipper said. Army doctors X-rayed the injury and placed Casey's arm in a plaster cast. He'll wear it from six to eight weeks.

Lucky Debonair To Lead Field Of 10 At Pimlico

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — A fairly definite field of 10 for Saturday's $150,000-added Preakness showed today that Lucky Debonair still has to do some convincing that he's the class of the 3-year-old thoroughbred racing crop.

"I don't know what else he has to do," wondered trainer Frank Catrone. "But every time he wins, they seem to find some excuse why he might not have, or shouldn't.

"He's won six out of nine races and was second the other three times. What more can you ask?"

After Lucky Debonair won the Kentucky Derby May 1, speculators dwelled on what might have happened if Dapper Dan had started moving a little sooner or the race had been just a little bit longer. He was last at three-quarters of a mile and only a neck behind Lucky at the end of the 1¼ miles.

It would have made no difference, according to the confident Catrone.

"He wasn't going to pass my horse," declared the trainer. "They could have run around the track again."

When Lucky Debonair first popped into prominence by beating Jacinto in the Santa Anita Derby, there also were skeptics. They cited an extremely fast workout before the race by Jacinto, taking too much out of him.

Jacinto hasn't raced since his licking by Lucky Debonair. He came to Pimlico last Saturday for the Preakness Prep but aggravated an ankle injury and is back on the sidelines.

Owners of six other starters in the Kentucky Derby were undaunted by Lucky Debonair's triumph and are pacing around waiting for the Preakness.

In addition to Dapper Dan, the horses are Tom Rolfe, Native Charger, Hail to All, Swift Ruler and Flag Raiser.

Trainer Hirsch Jacobs will not only give Flag Raiser another shot in the middle event of the Triple Crown but will send out Turn To Reason.

Both were winners last Saturday, Flag Raiser in the Withers Mile in New York and Turn To Reason in a division of the Illinois Derby.

Also listed as firm entries are Needle's Count, winner of the Preakness Prep after Jacinto's withdrawal, and Selari, a recent winner at Garden State over Bosun, which had been one of the highly rated 2-year-olds of 1964.

Slip On Grass Costs No-Hitter In International

By The Associated Press

A slip on some wet grass by third baseman John Ryan cost veteran Syracuse southpaw Ron Nischwitz an International League no-hitter.

As a result of the slip, Jim Napier was given credit for a scratch single in the ninth inning Monday night and Nischwitz had to settle for a one-hitter in beating Jacksonville 6-0.

In other games, Toledo edged Buffalo 5-4 in 10 innings and league-leading Atlanta walloped Rochester 16-4.

Buffalo squandered a 4-0 lead in its game with Toledo but still had a chance to win the game in the eighth inning. Then Choo Choo Coleman failed to step on home plate as he came home on a single by pinch hitter Larry Burright and the winning run didn't count.

Cleveland Deals Barker To Yanks

BOSTON (AP) — The Yankees usually have to scramble at this time of the year, but usually it's a scramble to pare their power down to the 25-man player limit by the deadline — due tonight at midnight.

But this time the scramble is a frantic, desperate search for help in their attempts to stay close that has New York General Manager Ralph Houk glued to the telephone.

Houk's latest acquisition, Ray Barker, who has yet to get his first major league base hit, will start at first base for the struggling Bombers tonight. Joe Pepitone goes to the outfield.

The deal left the Yankees — still struggling along in the depths of the second division — with 24 players, one under the limit.

Barker batted .278 in 156 games at Portland of the Pacific Coast League last season, with 23 home runs and 81 runs batted in. He was hitless in six times at bat this season.

Gonzalez hit .277 in 80 games with the Yankees last year and was 2-for-5 this season.

Pilgrim Misses 440 Mark In Potter Track Victory

Jon Pilgrim, East Liverpool's ace miler who cracked the county record last Friday night, tried something different Monday and almost established a new school mark in the 440 yard dash.

The Potters recorded their second dual meet victory by defeating visiting Western Beaver, 83-34.

Pilgrim, running the quarter mile in an effort to build his speed, turned in a dashing time of 52.8 only one-tenth of a second off the school record of 52.7.

Coach Norm Six did not enter Pilgrim in the mile or half mile event but his understudy Bill Loy took both events. Loy covered the mile in 4:50.9 and the half in 2:14.5.

Another double winner for the Potters was Denny Burke who won the 100 in 10.7.5 and the high jump with a leap of five feet, eight inches.

Bruce Shapiro won the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.6 while Dick Lamborn scored a first in the broad jump covering 18 feet, 3¾ inches.

Both Potter relay teams won with the half-mile squad turning in a time of 1:40.4 and the mile relay 3:44.8.

Western Beaver won five events as Neville took the 180-yard low hurdles in 22.5 and Jarrett won the 220-yard dash in 24.4.

The other victories for the Beavers came in field events. McMillan won the shot put at 43 feet, 4¼ inches, Carroll took the discus with 112 feet, 4¾ inches and Feydo won the pole vault at eight feet, six inches.

The Potters will participate in the District meet Saturday at Uhrichsville. The top three in each event will qualify for the Regional meet to be held at Kent State University May 22.

Knicks And Dallas Attempt To Sign Versatile Athlete

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Harold Blevins is in a dilemma and he wouldn't trade places with anyone.

Here's his problem:

—The New York Knickerbockers want him to play professional basketball.

—The Dallas Cowboys want him to play professional football.

A 6-foot-1, 188-pounder, Blevins starred in basketball at Arkansas AM&N, a Negro school playing in the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

But Blevins was a standout footballer as an end in high school at Tuscaloosa, Ala. and the Cowboys want to try him at flanker back or split end.

They've got his name on a contract for a tryout at the Cowboys' training camp at Thousand Oaks, Calif., July 15.

The National Football League team became understandably concerned last Thursday when the Knicks of the National Basketball Association drafted Blevins in the second round.

Why not play for both?

Because football and basketball seasons overlap, moreso than baseball and football, or basketball and baseball.

"Dallas called to remind me of my contract with them," Blevins said. "I think my chances are better in basketball because I have not played football since high school. But I'm not going to make a definite decision yet. I have a real good contract with Dallas."

A second-round NBA draft and a professional football contract for a fellow who hasn't played the gridiron since high school indicate that Blevins has made some respectable moves.

And his career totals bear it out: 2,241 points in four collegiate seasons, with a 23.3-point average his senior year.

The Knicks have contacted him about contract terms and they'll work out a proposal with him this week. Meanwhile, the Cowboys are keeping their eye on the goings on.

And Blevins? He's just waiting for the bidding to stop.

Thomas Hoober of Lancaster, Pa., has been re-elected captain of Dartmouth's swimming team. He's a junior.

Rain Falls On Colonial Tourney For Second Day

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas skies held a partial solution today to a $100,000 question — the outcome of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Heavy showers punctuated by lightning have postponed for two days the final round of the 72-hole event and installed George Knudson as perhaps the only five-day leader of a PGA tournament.

The 27 - year - old Canadian seized the lead Thursday, shared it with Bruce Crampton Friday, regained sole possession Saturday and since has contented himself with James Bond movies.

Discussing the mental anguish of leading a twice-delayed event, Knudson declared:

"I think it's just about the same for players who still are in contention... as much tension for them as myself."

Knudson, with a 54-hole total of 209, held a one-shot margin over Crampton and Tony Lema as the field prepared to try again today.

A formidable sextet, lingering three shots back at 212, was composed of Julius Boros, Gardner Dickinson, Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Don January and Al Geiberger.

Only three players worked in nine holes before thundershowers ended play Monday. They were Mike Souchak, with a five-over-par 40, and a pair of 38-shooters, Al Besslink and Raymond Floyd.

Knudson, Crampton and January — forming the last trio off the tee — completed the first hole in regulation par 5 before romping back to the storm shelter.

The 7,132-yard Trinity River layout has absorbed somewhere in the vicinity of four inches of rain since Sunday morning, and playing conditions are anything but favorable.

Tournament officials, viewing the weather forecasts with dismay, said if rain prevented the windup today the tournament would probably be extended until Wednesday. Beyond that point, with the Greater New Orleans Open scheduled to begin Thursday, plans remained indefinite.

A number of players, weary with the soggy situation, sought and received permission Monday to withdraw. They included Tommy Jacobs, Bob Rosburg, Tommy Aaron, Fred Hawkins, Jack Rule, Johnny Palmer, R. H. Sikes and Doug Ford.

Cleveland Deals Barker To Yanks

BOSTON (AP) — The Yankees usually have to scramble at this time of the year, but usually it's a scramble to pare their power down to the 25-man player limit by the deadline — due tonight at midnight.

But this time the scramble is a frantic, desperate search for help in their attempts to stay close that has New York General Manager Ralph Houk glued to the telephone.

Houk's latest acquisition, Ray Barker, who has yet to get his first major league base hit, will start at first base for the struggling Bombers tonight. Joe Pepitone goes to the outfield.

Barker, a left-handed hitter who doubles at first base and the outfield, came to the Yanks in a straight player swap with Cleveland Monday. The Yanks sent utility infielder Pedro Gonzalez to the Indians.

The deal left the Yankees — still struggling along in the depths of the second division — with 24 players, one under the limit.

Barker batted .278 in 156 games at Portland of the Pacific Coast League last season, with 23 home runs and 81 runs batted in. He was hitless in six times at bat this season.

Gonzalez hit .277 in 80 games with the Yankees last year and was 2-for-5 this season.

Pilgrim Misses 440 Mark In Potter Track Victory

Jon Pilgrim, East Liverpool's ace miler who cracked the county record last Friday night, tried something different Monday and almost established a new school mark in the 440 yard dash.

The Potters recorded their second dual meet victory by defeating visiting Western Beaver, 83-34.

Pilgrim, running the quarter mile in an effort to build his speed, turned in a dashing time of 52.8 only one-tenth of a second off the school record of 52.7.

Coach Norm Six did not enter Pilgrim in the mile or half mile event but his understudy Bill Loy took both events. Loy covered the mile in 4:50.9 and the half in 2:14.5.

Another double winner for the Potters was Denny Burke who won the 100 in 10.7.5 and the high jump with a leap of five feet, eight inches.

Bruce Shapiro won the 120 - yard high hurdles in 16.6 while Dick Lamborn scored a first in the broad jump covering 18 feet, 3¾ inches.

Both Potter relay teams won with the half-mile squad turning in a time of 1:40.4 and the mile relay 3:44.8.

Western Beaver won five events as Neville took the 180-yard low hurdles in 22.5 and Jarrett won the 220-yard dash in 24.4.

The other victories for the Beavers came in field events. McMillan won the shot put at 43 feet, 4¼ inches, Carroll took the discus with 112 feet, 4¾ inches and Feydo won the pole vault at eight feet, six inches.

The Potters will participate in the District meet Saturday at Uhrichsville. The top three in each event will qualify for the Regional meet to be held at Kent State University May 22.

Knicks And Dallas Attempt To Sign Versatile Athlete

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Harold Blevins is in a dilemma and he wouldn't trade places with anyone.

Here's his problem:

—The New York Knickerbockers want him to play professional basketball.

—The Dallas Cowboys want him to play professional football.

A 6-foot-1, 188-pounder, Blevins starred in basketball at Arkansas AM&N, a Negro school playing in the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

But Blevins was a standout footballer as an end in high school at Tuscaloosa, Ala. and the Cowboys want to try him at flanker back or split end.

They've got his name on a contract for a tryout at the Cowboys' training camp at Thousand Oaks, Calif., July 15.

The National Football League team became understandably concerned last Thursday when the Knicks of the National Basketball Association drafted Blevins in the second round.

Why not play for both?

Because football and basketball seasons overlap, moreso than baseball and football, or basketball and baseball.

"Dallas called to remind me of my contract with them," Blevins said. "I think my chances are better in basketball because I have not played football since high school. But I'm not going to make a definite decision yet. I have a real good contract with Dallas."

A second-round NBA draft and a professional football contract for a fellow who hasn't played the gridiron since high school indicate that Blevins has made some respectable moves.

And his career totals bear it out: 2,241 points in four collegiate seasons, with a 23.3-point average his senior year.

The Knicks have contacted him about contract terms and they'll work out a proposal with him this week. Meanwhile, the Cowboys are keeping their eye on the goings on.

And Blevins? He's just waiting for the bidding to stop.

Thomas Hoober of Lancaster, Pa., has been re-elected captain of Dartmouth's swimming team. He's a junior.

Rain Falls On Colonial Tourney For Second Day

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas skies held a partial solution today to a $100,000 question — the outcome of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Heavy showers punctuated by lightning have postponed for two days the final round of the 72-hole event and installed George Knudson as perhaps the only five-day leader of a PGA tournament.

The 27 - year - old Canadian seized the lead Thursday, shared it with Bruce Crampton Friday, regained sole possession Saturday and since has contented himself with James Bond movies.

Discussing the mental anguish of leading a twice-delayed event, Knudson declared:

"I think it's just about the same for players who still are in contention... as much tension for them as myself."

Knudson, with a 54-hole total of 209, held a one-shot margin over Crampton and Tony Lema as the field prepared to try again today.

A formidable sextet, lingering three shots back at 212, was composed of Julius Boros, Gardner Dickinson, Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Don January and Al Geiberger.

Only three players worked in nine holes before thundershowers ended play Monday. They were Mike Souchak, with a five-over-par 40, and a pair of 38-shooters, Al Besslink and Raymond Floyd.

Knudson, Crampton and January — forming the last trio off the tee — completed the first hole in regulation par 5 before romping back to the storm shelter.

The 7,132-yard Trinity River layout has absorbed somewhere in the vicinity of four inches of rain since Sunday morning, and playing conditions are anything but favorable.

Tournament officials, viewing the weather forecasts with dismay, said if rain prevented the windup today the tournament would probably be extended until Wednesday. Beyond that point, with the Greater New Orleans Open scheduled to begin Thursday, plans remained indefinite.

A number of players, weary with the soggy situation, sought and received permission Monday to withdraw. They included Tommy Jacobs, Bob Rosburg, Tommy Aaron, Fred Hawkins, Jack Rule, Johnny Palmer, R. H. Sikes and Doug Ford.

VOLKSWAGEN

1965 used, has 4276 miles, just like new and still carries unused new car warranty. Drive a Volkswagen and save $ $ $, in every way every day. For instance no antifreeze, it's air cooled at 30° below zero. After your Volkswagen has been standing out all night it starts immediately. Can't boil (no water) air cooled. Gas station attendants would be lonely people if every one owned a Volkswagen for they will run up to 400 miles on a tank full of gas or up to 42 miles per gallon on regular and use no oil between changes. Holds only 5 3/10 pints of the best oil, no throw away filter at $3.25 just thoroughly cleaned and replaced. Up to 100,000 miles on tires if properly inflated and rotated. Low, low upkeep, no water pump, no universal joints, drive shaft, etc. or ½ the parts of the V-8 such as 4 cylinder 4 stroke rear engine, only 4 spark plugs, oilless generator, oil bath air cleaner, no throw away, only clean and replace. Why don't you take advantage of a car with little or no obsolescence, just constant improvements, 1965 Volkswagen has a heater, radio, turn signals, dual padded sun visors, hand grip windshield washer, increased vision all around by 15%, new wiper system, bigger brake cylinder means less pressure on pedal, steering system is sealed. Requires no lubrication, new heater controls and bigger heater, warms up quicker when engine is cold. Sun visor can be pivoted from side to side, back seat passenger has more leg room, also back seat folds down to give you 17.7 cubic foot luggage compartment big enough for a couple of trunks. Many, many more improvements since 1952 at no extra $ $ $ to you. Think of it and what hasn't gone sky high since 1952. Not Volkswagen still only $1595 P.O.E. and all for no money down on any model. Just good credit, up to 48 months if you qualify. It operates for a penny a mile. Just compare anywhere dollar for dollar and you get so much more for so little. If you can afford $1.00 per day you cannot afford not to own a Volkswagen (definition THE PEOPLE'S CAR). Ask yourself why you own a costly car when a Volkswagen does it so economically and resale is so very very high and on some cars have so much depreciation in one year it would pay for a Volkswagen. Stop and ask the man or woman who owns one or your neighbor how he likes his Volkswagen and how much it costs to operate. Then come in and see one of our most courteous salesmen and make his prove it. Ride it — Drive it — and see for yourself the greatest surprise you have had since TV, at

Junior Editors Quiz on ARABIAN HORSES

QUESTION: How is the Arabian different from other horses?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Horses were domesticated and bred in various ancient civilizations of Asia Minor and in India, Persia and Arabia, but it was in the last-named country that horse-breeding reached the highest point. The Arab loved his horse almost more than his life and treated it with the greatest care. Mythology credits the birth of the Arabian horse to the west wind. One can understand this myth, for the depth of chest, large girth and unusually large windpipe gives this horse remarkable speed and endurance. Moors from Africa brought the Arab breed to Spain, and later, Spaniards took these horses with them to the New World. In England, development of horse racing led to the importation of Arabian stallions to be bred with English mares, this mixture creating the Thoroughbred breed, from which came the Morgan, Hambletonian and others. The Arabian is the oldest breed, and its blood flows in most of the "light horse" breeds of today. An Arabian's head is wedge-shaped. The large, intelligent eyes are set low with a bulge above (1.) The profile is concave (2) the muzzle small and delicate (3.) A purebred Arabian has one less vertebra than others tending to make the back short.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Save some photos of horses and see if you can pick out the Arabian ones or those with Arabian blood in them.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

A President In A Hurry

Television network news officials privately are expressing concern verging on alarm over what they regard as an increasingly trigger- happy use of their medium by President Johnson.

Richard Doan

The newsmen cite the recent almost impromptu TV outing by the President as a prime case in point. Top echelons of the three major networks were thrown into a turmoil by the incident.

Only one of the chains, CBS, cleared time for Mr. Johnson's statement on the Dominican situation.

-:-

THE PRESIDENT took over CBS' air at 9:58 p.m., thus preempting the usual pre-10 p.m. station break as well as the following half hour.

NBC, not normally a network to forego a news special, elected on editorial judgement to videotape the speech and run it at 11:15 p.m., in station time.

ABC chose to run taped excerpts of the President's remarks in the network's 11 p.m. news.

As recently as April 28, Mr. Johnson went on nationwide TV on such short notice that only one network, this time NBC was able—or chose—to clear time.

NETWORK officials are reluctant to criticize the President publicly. But off the record they unanimously express the feeling that Mr. Johnson is ill advised in jumping before the White House cameras without warning.

"After all, this is the President of the United States, and you don't turn him down lightly," one official stewed. "But the country has a right to know when the President is going on the air. And he isn't giving us time to advertise his appearances."

The network exectutives said they were not even entirely clear in advance, either, as to what the President wanted to report or how much time he wanted. They were generally under the impression the statement would run about 15 minutes. Instead, it went more than half an hour.

ONE NETWORK news president said he felt as if he "was walking a tightrope" trying to reach a judgment as to the importance of the presidential announcement based on what could be found out about it.

Several of the executives commented on the visible difficulties Mr. Johnson encountered with his script on the teleprompter and attributed this probably to haste in setting up the appearance.

The network officials differed as to whether the White House "requested" air time.

"There was no request for time," one new vice president reported. "We were told only that the President would make a statement at an undetermined time about the Dominican situation, and we could televise it if we wanted to."

-:-

AT ANOTHER network, a spokesman said "not for attribution," that there was "a strong appeal by the President to the networks to give him time because he felt this was very important."

"I'd like to help the President, and my country, as much as the next guy," one top-rank news executive grumbled, "but Mr. Johnson isn't making it easy for us.

"Yes, I'm irate. There ought to be some organization about this. It isn't the money that's involved. It's a matter of doing the job properly."

-:-

CLAD in trenchcoat and standing on the banks of the Thames with Big Ben in the background—the traditional costume and setting for a TV commentator reporting from London—ABC newsman Peter Jennings was interviewed last week by this reporter via Early Bird satellite.

It probably was the first newspaper interview to be conducted by way of the new Comsat satellite. This writer talked with Jennings while watching him on a TV monitor at ABC's new studio in the Des Artistes Hotel near Manhattan's Central Park.

Jennings said there was great excitement in TV news circles in London and the continent over the success of the Early Bird inaugural telecast.

The newsman said he believes Londoners in general are "very aware" of Early Bird's arrival on the TV scene. But he does not think the British press played the Early Bird story as prominently as U.S. newspapers had.

City's Refuse Pickup Will Shift Downtown

Collections will be made Wednesday in the downtown and Thompson Hill areas as incinerator department trucks continue the annual two-week citywide spring cleanup drive.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Mother Helps Child By Reading At Home

I wonder how many kind, patient mothers have had experiences with one or more children and their reading similar to any of the experiences reported in the following letter from North Dakota: "We have three children—one fourteen years old who does not enjoy reading unless I read every other page with him; one nine years, who wants to read way beyond his years about adventures and far-off lands; and a seven-year-old girl who loves to read if someone will pay attention to each word and help her with the big ones."

Dr. Garry Myers

My reply in part to her. You must be a good mother to go on helping these children kindly and patiently with their reading. The chances are you need to find for your oldest son more materials to read that are easy for him to read, but interesting. You should be glad that he enjoys reading when you read every other page with him.

—:—

AS YOU read with him help him to say in a few of his own words what is in the page or a paragraph. As the younger brother is so advanced in reading this older brother may feel overshadowed, especially if you ever marvel over the younger's excellence in reading.

However, I hope you help this younger boy find lots of books he will enjoy. It might be that the eldest could be persuaded, even hired, to read to his young sister for her amusement. No better way for him to improve his reading skill.

Since the girl needs help with big words, you might, after saying these words for her and helping her thus to finish a few sentences or a paragraph, quietly help her to break these big words into syllables. Help her sound out these words. But if you always stop her in the midst of a sentence, to sound out a word, you could discourage her. Try also to find easier material for her to read.

You may have discovered, too, that your eldest son would greatly profit from your helping him become familiar with basic sounds of letters and their combinations in words familiar to him when heard. Sometimes all three children might enjoy listening while you or Dad read aloud to them some exciting story or feature.

BETWEEN the lines I sense that you are doubtful whether you should help them as much as you do. So long as they are willing to go on, even with your help, and seem to get pleasure from the experience, you may be on the right track. Just to have your constant interest and your patient readiness to help them may in the long run bring best results.

You didn't say a word to indicate that either the eldest or the youngest resisted reading when you helped them. This should make you very hopeful. As you see them gaining, you and they will get more and more satisfaction. I hope you together will celebrate successes.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Akron Health Unit Hit On Fluoridation Bid

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Common Pleas Court judge has ruled that Akron's Health Commission does not have the authority to fluoridate the city's water supply.

Portage County Judge Robert Cook said Monday: "Fluoridation is a political decision to be expressed by the legislative body of the municipality—the City Council—not a board of health."

The decision came 15 months after Service Director Robert Hoyt was ordered by the commission to put fluorides in the water.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

A President In A Hurry

Television network news officials privately are expressing concern verging on alarm over what they regard as an increasingly trigger-happy use of their medium by President Johnson.

Richard Doan

The newsmen cite the recent almost impromptu TV outing by the President as a prime case in point. Top echelons of the three major networks were thrown into a turmoil by the incident.

Only one of the chains, CBS, cleared time for Mr. Johnson's statement on the Dominican situation.

-:-

THE PRESIDENT took over CBS' air at 9:58 p.m., thus preempting the usual pre-10 p.m. station break as well as the following half hour.

NBC, not normally a network to forego a news special, elected on editorial judgement to videotape the speech and run it at 11:15 p.m., in station time.

ABC chose to run taped excerpts of the President's remarks in the network's 11 p.m. news.

As recently as April 28, Mr. Johnson went on nationwide TV on such short notice that only one network, this time NBC was able—or chose—to clear time.

NETWORK officials are reluctant to criticize the President publicly. But off the record they unanimously express the feeling that Mr. Johnson is ill advised in jumping before the White House cameras without warning.

"After all, this is the President of the United States, and you don't turn him down lightly," one official stewed. "But the country has a right to know when the President is going on the air. And he isn't giving us time to advertise his appearances."

The network exectutives said they were not even entirely clear in advance, either, as to what the President wanted to report or how much time he wanted. They were generally under the impression the statement would run about 15 minutes. Instead, it went more than half an hour.

ONE NETWORK news president said he felt as if he "was walking a tightrope" trying to reach a judgment as to the importance of the presidential announcement based on what could be found out about it.

Several of the executives commented on the visible difficulties Mr. Johnson encountered with his script on the teleprompter and attributed this probably to haste in setting up the appearance.

The network officials differed as to whether the White House "requested" air time.

"There was no request for time," one new vice president reported. "We were told only that the President would make a statement at an undetermined time about the Dominican situation, and we could televise it if we wanted to."

AT ANOTHER network, a spokesman said "not for attribution," that there was "a strong appeal by the President to the networks to give him time because he felt this was very important."

"I'd like to help the President, and my country, as much as the next guy," one top-rank news executive grumbled, "but Mr. Johnson isn't making it easy for us.

"Yes, I'm irate. There ought to be some organization about this. It isn't the money that's involved. It's a matter of doing the job properly."

CLAD in trenchcoat and standing on the banks of the Thames with Big Ben in the background—the traditional costume and setting for a TV commentator reporting from London—ABC newsman Peter Jennings was interviewed last week by this reporter via Early Bird satellite.

It probably was the first newspaper interview to be conducted by way of the new Comsat satellite. This writer talked with Jennings while watching him on a TV monitor at ABC's new studio in the Des Artistes Hotel near Manhattan's Central Park.

Jennings said there was great excitement in TV news circles in London and the continent over the success of the Early Bird inaugural telecast.

The newsman said he believes Londoners in general are "very aware" of Early Bird's arrival on the TV scene. But he does not think the British press played the Early Bird story as prominently as U.S. newspapers had.
